VIOLENT WEATHER TOLL GROWS

Turbulent Night Dumps Moisture

David City Records 3.15 Inches; Tornado, Heavy Winds Reported

By The Associated Press

Needed moisture—an abundance of it—had fallen in Nebraska Sunday following a night of turbulence during which a tornado and severe winds were reported.

Some of the larger precipitation reports up to Sunday evening included:

Raab Wins Close Vote In Austria

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Chancellor Julius Raab's Conservatives Sunday won a close victory in Austria's parliamentary election. They immediately proclaimed a halt to nationalization of industry.

That was the big issue in the contest between Raab's People's Party and the Socialists, who demanded more nationalization. About 30 per cent of Austria's basic industry is state owned.

Rightist and Communists both lost parliamentary seats in this first national election since the Russians went home.

Complete unofficial returns gave this lineup: Conservatives 82 seats, Socialists 75, Rightist Freedom League, 5, Communists 3.

The old lineup in the 165-member parliament was Conservatives 74, Socialists 73, Freedom League 14, Communists 4.

Panama Picks New President

PANAMA (AP)—Panama voters chose a new president, two vice presidents and a national assembly Sunday in an election unmarred by violence.

Rival candidates claimed victory, but results will not be known until after Monday when the official canvass begins. More than 383,000 citizens were eligible to vote.

For president, they chose between Ernesto de la Guardia Jr., a 1925 graduate in business administration from Dartmouth, and Victor Florencio Goytia, a former chief justice of the Supreme Court who gave up a newspaper job with the Diario de las Americas in Miami, Fla., to run for office.

Pro-Germans Lead In Saar

SAARBRUECKEN, Saar, (AP)—Parties demanding union of the rich industrial Saar with West Germany surged into a 2-1 lead Sunday night in local elections.

Early returns bore out Premier Hubert Ney's boast the vote would kill French illusions that the Saar wants to be separated from Germany.

Three pro-German parties colored 71 per cent of the vote in both municipal and district council elections. The district and municipal councils have been largely controlled by pro-French parties.

Screwdriver Omaha Killing Is Confessed

OMAHA (AP)—Police said a 49-year-old Omaha man Sunday admitted the screwdriver stabbing Saturday of Ollie Watson, 54, also of Omaha.

Detectives identified the man being held as Clifford Butler.

Watson was killed Saturday afternoon at the Volunteers of America Home, where he lived.

Police quoted Myron Monical, 52, of the home, as saying he saw Watson and Butler scuffling in the second floor room they shared.

Butler told detectives he returned to the room and Watson cursed him about drinking and struck him several times.

Detectives said Butler told them he had been straightening his glasses with a screwdriver and stabbed Watson with it. Butler said he fled the home and the first he knew of Watson's death was when a woman informed him of it shortly before his arrest.

Non Profit Burglary

Police said burglars crawled through an open window after punching a hole in the screen at the Edward Pauksens home at 2344 R, and took a billfold from a chest on the dresser in the living room. The billfold contained no money.

Scottsbluff 1.14 inches, Harrisburg .94, Alliance .51, Chadron .76, Wahoo 2.50, Fremont 2.50, Tekamah 1.25, Rising City 2.00, David City 3.15, Norfolk .35, Grand Island .43, and Valentine .29.

Other amounts: Lincoln .28, North Omaha .56, Omaha .26, Burwell .16, Sidney .09 and Offutt Field .59.

Temperatures in the Lincoln vicinity pulled a reverse by steadily falling after 4:30 a.m. instead of steadily rising as is usual this time of year.

At 4:30 a.m. the mercury read 80, but by noon Sunday it had dropped to 66 and by 6:30 p.m. it had fallen to 37. Early Monday morning it read 49.

The Frank Hewitt farm near Osceola had a barn flattened Saturday night by a tornado, while in northwest Omaha, a radio station tower was toppled, airport buildings and planes smashed and nearby homes damaged.

No injuries

There were, however, no reports of injuries.

The Clear Ridge Airport suffered the heaviest damage in the Omaha area. One hangar was destroyed and three others damaged. All but five of some 45 planes at the airport were damaged and airport workers said about a dozen would never fly again.

William Fraser, airport president, said he could give no estimate of the damage until heavy machinery could move hangar wreckage this week.

The winds split one tree and then whipped through the barnyard at the E. F. Agee farm in northwest Omaha. A corn crib was torn from its foundation and hurled 60 feet. Outside a 30-foot swath, there was no damage.

Otto Hagedorn reported a big metal hay barn and machine shed were badly damaged on his farm. He estimated the loss at about $1,500. The Agee and Hagedorn places are within a mile of the airport.

Adrian J. Miller's new home was demolished. Its roof was blown into a house across the street.

Corn Crib Destroyed

The Nels Jewel farm, about two miles northwest of the airport, also was damaged. A large dairy building was twisted and a corner destroyed.

The 457-foot radio station WOW tower was toppled, putting the station off the air for about five hours. A temporary tower was constructed, allowing the station to resume broadcasting.

Effects of the storm, however, were to linger in the state through Monday night in the form of cooler temperatures; the Weather Bureau said.

Partly cloudy skies with high stretching only in the 50s was forecast for most of the state with high reaching near 60 in southeastern areas. Tuesday was to be warmer.

Rains estimated at one inch fell during the storm in northwest Omaha, although other parts throughout the city received lesser amounts of moisture.

Power was disrupted to a wide area as the winds knocked down trees, signs, poles and power lines.

Northeastern sections also received a taste of the storm. Brief, but heavy showers fell in most of the area and were accompanied by lightning and thunder.

Winds at the Omaha Municipal Airport reached 60 miles an hour. The Weather Bureau, however, had an unconfirmed report of winds reaching 80 to 85 miles an hour in the Valley area.

Rain was quite general over the central and western areas of the state Sunday, but it was light and scattered for the most part.

Winds, however, were gusty, reaching 20 to 30 miles per hour at many points and 38 mph at Grand Island.

Narcotics Charge Added To Davis

OMAHA (AP)—Clifford H. Davis, 30, who was charged last month in connection with the Decatur, Neb., bank robbery, was formally charged Sunday with a federal narcotics violation.

Davis had been free on $10,000 bond after being charged in connection with the robbery of the Citizens State Bank of Decatur on April 7. Two other persons were charged with being his accomplices.

SNARLING FUNNEL BEARS DOWN ON PHOTOGRAPHER

Jerry Heiman of the Detroit Free Press stood his ground as this black funnel bore down on him several miles east of Lansing, Michigan. The twister was just one of 19 to hit the state in a single day. (AP).

Ike To Keep Plans Secret For While

... About Campaign

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Eisenhower has a lot of plans and ideas on how he is going to campaign for reelection this fall, but he is not telling "the opposition" about them yet.

Adlai Stevenson, Estes Kefauver and Averell Harriman have been designated "eminently qualified" for the Democratic presidential nomination by the self-styled "Liberal" Americans for Democratic Action.

ADA says any one of the three Democrats would make an acceptable president, but it has resolved to oppose "with all its resources" an Eisenhower-Nixon Republican ticket.

Ends Convention

Concluding its three-day convention in Washington Sunday, the ADA adopted a resolution criticizing what it called Eisenhower's "addiction to inordinate delegation of responsibility." It said the President's health has dramatized the importance of the vice presidency.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, it said, has disqualified himself by his conduct in past political campaigns.

Gov. Harriman, one of the three Democrats singled out by the ADA, said in a speech at Denver that the Democratic Party "might as well go fishing if we forget it is the party of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman and deviate in any way from the principles in which we believe."

Harriman asserted another four years with a president who has shown no interest in his job and may show less in the future could ruin the country.

Discount Estes, Harriman

Both Harriman and Kefauver were discounted as presidential nominees by former Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia. Talmadge, now seeking the Senate seat to be vacated by Sen. George (D-Ga) said he would oppose both men at the Democratic National Convention.

"I would prefer Gov. Stevenson far away and above those two," said Talmadge. He also renewed his opposition to desegregating Southern public schools.

Union leader Walter Reuther urged that the Democratic Party expel some of its Southern members in Congress if they do not support party policy on civil rights and other issues.

The 600 ADA delegates applauded playbacks of tape-recorded interviews with the three Democratic candidates. In the recording, Kefauver, Stevenson and Harriman answered a series of questions propounded by the ADA. While they differed in degree on some subjects, their views appeared to conform fundamentally on most questions.

All agreed in general, for one Russell R. Strom Jr., Legislature 20th Dist.—Pol. Adv.

thing, that some sort of presidentially-ordered conference is needed to help bring about integration in the public schools. All listed this country's role in foreign affairs as a prime campaign issue.

Eisenhower's campaign plans were discussed, in somewhat veiled fashion, by his press secretary, James C. Hagerty. Appearing on a filmed television program with Rep. Keating (R-NY), Hagerty said:

"We have a lot of plans. It's a little bit too early now to announce those plans, either to the people or more particularly to the opposition party."

"We are in a new age—an election age—and we have a lot of ideas and a lot of thoughts on how to campaign."

By electronics Hagerty apparently meant television. It already has been announced the president probably will make five or six TV campaign speeches, some of which may be in different part of the country.

Harriman, who says he is not an active candidate for the Democratic nomination, is setting out on an eight-day speech making swing through six Western states. His backers hope to show that he has party support for the presidential nomination outside his home state of New York.

Another favorite son possibility, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, was reported planning to use his convention strength in an effort to win the nomination of a "moderate" candidate who can hold the Democrats together.

Friends say Johnson doesn't want the nomination himself this year.

'I Wasn't Drinking'—

Actor Cliff Seriously Hurt When Car Plows Into Pole

WEST LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Montgomery Clift was injured seriously early Sunday when the car he was driving struck a power pole as he was en route home from a dinner party at Elizabeth Taylor's hillside home.

Clift, 35, suffered several facial cuts and bruises, a broken nose, and a possible brain concussion, his physician said. The actor was taken to Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

The rented car Clift was driving was virtually demolished, police reported. Clift's head was thrown against the dashboard and a 4,000-volt transformer, knocked off the pole by the impact, narrowly missed the car.

Interest Is Slight In State Primary

... Might Be One Of Lightest Votes Ever

By ARCH DONOVAN

Star Staff Writer

Interest in Tuesday's primary election is reported slight in all sections of the state, with indications that the vote will be one of the lightest in history. Polls open at 8 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. in the 2,127 Nebraska precincts.

Secretary of State Frank Marsh said he does not expect the vote to exceed 250,000. Two years ago, with nomination of candidates for U. S. Senator and several hard-fought contests, the total Republican vote was 169,000 and the Democratic vote 84,000.

This year there are no Senate seats, and fewer contests, although the ballot will be lengthened by the selection of delegates to the national conventions of both parties.

Registration was reported lighter than usual in most places. Lincoln's registration totaled 48,087.

Republicans will pick 18 delegates to their convention, and the Democrats will name 12. The delegates are not bound to announce their preference in candidates, although some have done so.

President Eisenhower will be unopposed on the GOP presidential preferential ballot, and Estes Kefauver has no opposition on the Democratic ballot. No organized write-in campaigns for any other candidates have appeared.

Interest has been reported light even in the Second and Third Congressional Districts, where there are many candidates for the seats in Washington. The Second District has five candidates on the ballot of each party, and in the Third, four Republicans and three Democrats are seeking the nomination.

Nine members of the non-political Legislature have no opposition. Three Unicameral districts have seven candidates each.

Only 143 candidates are seeking nominations for directors of the state's 92 director posts in Nebraska's public power districts. In some districts the ballot is blank.

There are two candidates on each party ticket seeking the nomination for governor. They are Republicans Edwin L. Hart, Lincoln and Gov. Victor E. Anderson, Lincoln, and Democrats are Ted Baum of Scottsbluff and Frank Sorrell of Syracuse.

Five Republicans seek the nomination for the railway commissioner seat now held by Paul Pettygrove of Oxford who is seeking reelection.

During the "all star" primary of 1948 a host of White House hopefuls campaigned in the state seeking support. This year there was but one brief appearance in Omaha of Estes Kefauver, seeking the Democratic nomination.

Twisters, Rains, Floods Kill 12; Cost $8 Million

MICHIGAN, OHIO HARDEST HIT

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A series of weekend tornadoes and storms left at least 12 persons dead, more than 260 injured and property damage in excess of eight million dollars Sunday.

The tornadoes struck Saturday night and Sunday, and the thunderstorms that spawned them caused flood conditions in parts of Michigan and Pennsylvania.

Hardest hit areas were Cleveland; Flint, Mich., and two suburban Detroit areas; Windsor, Ont. and Duquesne, Pa.

A Cleveland thunderstorm left six dead in the Cleveland area, injured at least 56 and caused property damage of "several million dollars."

Police estimated damage at five million in the Cleveland suburb of Rocky River alone. Another Cleveland suburb, Lakewood, also suffered heavy damage.

Six others were killed by twisters in Michigan and more than 200 others were injured. Nineteen separate tornadoes spun down on that state late Saturday. Damage in Flint alone was estimated by police at between 1½ and 2 million dollars.

Five persons were injured in Pennsylvania storms.

Damage was estimated at a half million dollars in Duquesne, Pa. The swollen Flint River drove 100 persons from their homes in

Flash Flood

The worst flash flood in 50 years was reported at Meadville, Pa., a community of about 20,000 some 90 miles north of Pittsburgh. The Mill Run stream flooded a 12-block area of the business district.

The Weather Bureau had issued tornado alerts for Sunday afternoon or evening for areas from southeastern Minnesota to western New York. There were no reports of actual twisters.

Thunderstorms without the specific threat of tornadoes cracked over much of the nation's midsection, from the Rocky Mountains to the Appalachians, and extended northeastward into New England.

Second Blow

Three twisters hit almost simultaneously at Flint where 116 died in Michigan's worst tornado in 1953. Three were killed there, including a couple who died in the wreckage of their home. A woman at Ithaca was killed in the collapse of a barn, and other storm deaths occurred at Muskegon and Saginaw.

More than 200 homes were reduced to rubble in the Flint area, and some 500 families have been evacuated from flood-threatened homes along the Grand River east of Grand Rapids and along the Flint River.

Besides some 300 injured in Flint and two Detroit suburbs—Allen Park and Lincoln Park, another 25 were hurt in Windsor, Ont., across the Detroit River.

Cleveland Hit

Tornado winds lashed the Cleveland area in Ohio, causing six deaths, injuring more than 50, felling 600 trees and power lines. Three persons were crushed in the collapse of a tavern, one under a falling tree, and two were electrocuted by dangling live wires.

Roofs, chimneys and windows were the principal toll Sunday of a pre-dawn twister which struck the western Pennsylvania steel town of Duquesne, near Pittsburgh. Only two persons were reported injured there. There was also minor tornado damage in Aliquippa, northwest of Pittsburgh.

Kansas Storm Flattens Farms

YATES CENTER, Kan. (AP)—A severe wind, but described as "not a tornado," slashed across eight farms in a band east and south of this southeast Kansas community late Sunday afternoon.

Highway patrol Capt. Carl Harder said no one was injured, although damage totaled some $30,000.

Harder said two barns in the area were almost knocked flat by the wind. He said three homes were damaged as were several other barns. Trees were uprooted and grain bins were also knocked over by the wind.

Ike Against 'B&K' U.S. Visit Now

HAGERTY OUTLINES VIEWPOINT

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower's chief spokesman said Sunday that Soviet leaders Nikoai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev will be invited to the United States only if they show "some action—some evidence of faith" in easing cold war tensions.

Presidential News Secretary James C. Hagerty said that since Eisenhower took office, he has been demanding "deeds and not words" from the leaders of the Soviet Union.

Hagerty added: "We haven't got those deeds yet."

"Stalemate"

The President's press secretary noted that the disarmament conference ended in London after a lot of words "more or less in a stalemate" and Eisenhower's "open skies" inspection plan against surprise attacks has been "completely rejected by the Russians after a lot of talk."

In an interview, Hagerty told Rep. Kenneth Keating (R-NY) that "we'd be more interested before a visit to this country in some action—some evidence of faith—that we do not have at the present time."

Keating raised the question of a possible invitation by recalling that Bulganin and Khrushchev expressed a desire to visit the U.S. while they were in England recently.

Hagerty also declared:

1. The President reads about 18 newspapers daily—eight or nine each morning and the same number every evening.

2. Eisenhower is not embarrassed by questions put to him by newsmen at his news conferences. "He's gotten used to them," explained Hagerty.

3. The chief executive feels the news conferences serve a useful purpose. He can give the people through the question and answer sessions "his philosophies, the way he's feeling and thinking on any of the major important questions of the day." In return, he learns what the people are thinking about through the questions put to him by newsmen.

4. The President is being attacked because 1956 is a political year, but "I think that in time we'll be able to take care of these attacks."

5. The two "major overwhelming issues" in the campaign will be these: "That the administration has been moving from war toward peace more and more, and that the prosperity of our country is increasing."

6. Before Vice President Richard M. Nixon announced he would run again for the office, the "overwhelming majority" of mail received by the White House was favorable to him.

Rev. Dillworth Heads County Holiness Group

The Lancaster County Holiness Association has elected the Rev. R. M. Dillworth as president for 1956.

Other officers include:

- First vice president, The Rev. L. L. Chambers.
- Second vice president, the Rev. E. E. Myers.
- Third vice president, the Rev. William P. Bancroft.
- Recording secretary, Mrs. D. D. Jones.
- Treasurer, Mrs. R. L. Jackson.
- Corresponding secretary and pianist, Mrs. R. M. Dillworth.

Youths Arrested

Three youths were arrested over the weekend in connection with taking two hubcaps valued at $22 from a car owned by James A. Strauss of 3815 Touzalin while it was parked in the Cotner Terrace parking lot.

Residence Ransacked

Robert Nicholson of 2749 So. 12th, reported to police that $5 in cash was taken from his home and the residence was ransacked by unidentified burglars over the weekend.

NU Students Will Receive Awards At Dairy Banquet

Nearly 100 dairy awards will be given to University of Nebraska students at the Varsity Dairy club's annual recognition banquet, May 16.

Winners of dairy cattle judging and dairy products judging contests held last month will be announced.

In addition to individual awards, this year a traveling plaque will be given to the winning fraternity team or organized house in each contest, according to Robert G. Fossland, dairy husbandry instructor and club advisor.

Lawrence Liebers, of Lincoln, will be main speaker at the banquet. He is a graduate of the University dairy department.

Official judge for the cattle contest was Bob Johnson, dairy herdsmen at Boys Town. P. A. Downs, University professor of dairy husbandry, judged the dairy products contest.

H-BLAST DATE DOUBT GROWS; WIND AGAIN

ABOARD USS MT. MCKINLEY.—Joint Task Force 7 weather forecasters said Monday there is scant chance to carry out the Shot Cherokee H-bomb test Wednesday morning—Tuesday U. S. time.

A morning communique said that conditions forecast for Tuesday and Wednesday "are not acceptable." The weatherman said there is little evidence of a favorable change by Wednesday morning "although such a possibility must not be ruled out."

The forecasters said that winds from the north, blowing over the target island in Bikini Atoll, would drop radioactive contamination on inhabited islands of the Marshalls from an H-bomb blast.

The tentative schedule of the blast for Wednesday was the seventh test postponement because of unfavorable winds. Another delay until Thursday now appears likely.

19 Naval Officers Check Local NAS

An inspection party of 19 high-ranking naval officers, headed by Rear Adm. Clarence L. C. Atkeson, are examining the adequacy and efficiency of the Lincoln Naval Air Station.

The survey party, from headquarters of the 9th Naval District at Chicago, evaluate management and operational adequacy of the local navy unit to perform its role in support of the fleet operating forces.

Although the visit was described as "routine" by Cmdr. F. H. Holt, commander of the Lincoln NAS, such an inspection is only conducted every two or three years.

Survey parties similar to the one visiting Lincoln are composed of technical experts in various fields of naval administration and management. Their reports are filed with the Secretary of the Navy, but no rating mark is published for the inspected facilities.

Cyprus' Chief Defies Threat Of Assassins

NICOSIA, Cyprus (U.P.)—Sir John Harding, the British military governor of Cyprus, Sunday defied would-be assassins by showing up for regular Church of England services in this tense island capital.

Two soldier guards accompanied Harding as he worshipped with other Britishers EOKA, the underground organization, has called upon all "patriotic" Greek Cypriots to kill Harding following the execution of two of their young compatriots as political gunmen.

While Harding attended church thousands of Greek Cypriots went quietly to Orthodox services throughout the island to mourn for the two dead men.

Only one incident marred the Sunday calm. A homemade bomb was tossed through the window of a security force billet at Famagusta, injuring two men, one seriously.

The British cracked down on the community of Paphos by imposing a $15,400 collective fine as punishment for the killing of a royal Marine commando last Wednesday. He died in a bomb explosion.

Youth, Thought In Missouri Robbery, Jailed As Vagrant

A 17-year-old St. Louis, Mo., youth, believed involved in an 8-cent armed robbery there was given a 10-day jail term after pleading guilty to a vagrancy charge in Lancaster County Court.

The youth and a 14-year-old girl were picked up by Nebraska Safety Patrolmen, while they were walking to Lincoln on U. S. 34.

A 25-caliber automatic pistol, taken from the youth and reported to be the same one used in the robbery, was shown to County Judge Herbert Ronin during the youth's arraignment.

The girl was placed in the county detention home after the filing of a juvenile delinquency and dependency complaint.

Authorities said the girl was carrying a knife, when picked up, and was on juvenile probation from St. Louis.

The youthful pair had hitchhiked their way to Lincoln after abandoning a car near Columbia, Mo., authorities said.

Authorities are waiting word from St. Louis on possible prosecution of the pair there. The youth has admitted the St. Louis robbery, according to the Patrol.

Temptation Too Great

Charles Knight of 5143 Cleveland, told police thieves stole his car and abandoned it, taking a camera and hatchet valued at $35.88.

Boy Accidentally Shoots Younger Brother In Finger

Seven-year-old Stephen Wilhelmson of 3518 So. 31st, accidentally shot his four-year-old brother, Tommie, in the middle finger of his right hand with a nine-shot revolver, police said.

The injured tot was taken to an attending physician who said the wound would probably not cause any permanent damage to the finger.

Police said Stephen found the loaded gun lying under the front seat of his father's car parked in the drive of the home.

The boys' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wilhelmson.

Three State News Women Honored

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Three Nebraska newspaper women received awards at the National Federation of Press Women at its meeting here.

Receiving a second place award was Reva R. Evans of Gordon for a news story "Hailstorm Bombs Area," which appeared in the Gordon Journal.

Third place awards went to Helen Green of Fairbury and Eleanor Seiberger of Cozad.

Helen Green's award was for a series of three special articles on one subject, Dedication of Monument, which appeared in the Fairbury Journal.

Eleanor Seiberger won her recognition for the best adult fiction in a newspaper. "Woman Who Wouldn't Stay Home." It appeared in the Omaha World Herald.

Mrs. Velma Price, president of the federation, presided. She is staff member of the Newman Grove, Neb., Reporter.

Tecumseh Rites For Mrs. Webb

TECUMSEH, Neb.—Services for Mrs. Marguerite Webb, 53, will be held at St. Andrew's Catholic Church here Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Webb, a native of Vesta, Neb., had lived in Tecumseh most of her life. She died Friday.

Surviving are her husband, Dewey; sons, William and Richard of Lincoln; James of Omaha; Lawrence of Hastings and Kenneth of Independence, Mo.; five grandchildren; her mother, Mrs. Pierie Murphy of Tecumseh; sisters, Mrs. Frank Thurber and Mrs. John Olson of Tecumseh and Mrs. Merl Cornell of Omaha, and a brother Lawrence Murphy of Tecumseh.

'Joan Of Arc' Proves Spectacular Music Event

By RUTH ARDIS

The appearance of Vera Zorina with the students of the Music Department of the University of Nebraska in Honegger's "Joan of Arc" proved to be the most spectacular single event of the season.

Dr. David Foltz directed the 500-voice chorus and the University Symphony Orchestra in the powerful and dramatic oratorio before a spellbound audience which filled the Coniseum Sunday evening.

Dr. Foltz

Vera Zorina was the impressive interpreter of Joan of Arc, giving an unforgettable dramatic performance. Miss Zorina is remarkably gifted in portraying the maximum amount of emotion with her voice and expressive use of hands. Her excellent performance of the spoken lines revealed musicianship of high order.

Honegger's "Joan of Arc" combines the drama of music with that of the spoken word in much the same way as his "King David" which was presented here two years ago. Although both works are direct and powerful the music of "Joan of Arc" is more subtle—the drama being interspersed with touches of satire and humor. Neither oratorio is extremely dissonant, but only as is necessary to portray drama and mood.

Combination

Contemporary music and old music are effectively combined. For example, the simple and most impressive chant, sung by the Boys' Town Choir and later by Miss Zorina, is the melody of a 15th century French folk-song "L'Homme armé." It was used by numerous composers of the mass in succeeding centuries.

'Aware Of Modern'

In presenting the work, Dr. Foltz chairman of the department of music, expressed the view that it is our responsibility to be sure that the students are made aware of the great modern creative works of today as well as those of the past. "It was obvious from the crowd's response that Nebraskans appreciate and accept such great contemporary works. # Ike Against 'B&K' U. S. Visit Now

HAGERTY OUTLINES VIEWPOINT

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower's chief spokesman said Sunday that Soviet leaders Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev will be invited to the United States only if they show "some action—some evidence of faith" in easing cold war tensions.

Presidential News Secretary James C. Hagerty said that since Eisenhower took office, he has been demanding "deeds and not words from the leaders of the Soviet Union."

Hagerty added: "We haven't got those deeds yet."

'Stalemate'

The President's press secretary noted that the disarmament conference ended in London after a lot of words "more or less in a stalemate" and Eisenhower's "open skies" inspection plan against surprise attacks has been "completely rejected" by the Russians "after a lot of talk."

In an interview, Hagerty told Rep. Kenneth Keating (R-NY) that "we'd be more interested before a visit to this country in some action—some evidence of faith—that we do not have at the present time."

Keating raised the question of a possible invitation by recalling that Bulganin and Khrushchev expressed a desire to visit the U.S. while they were in England recently.

Hagerty also declared:

1. The President reads about 18 newspapers daily—eight or nine each morning and the same number every evening.

Not Embarrassed

2. Eisenhower is not embarrassed by questions put to him by newsmen at his new conferences. "He's gotten used to them," explained Hagerty.

3. The chief executive feels the news conferences serve a useful purpose. He can give the people through the question and answer sessions "his philosophies, the way he's feeling and thinking on any of the major important questions of the day." In return, he learns what the people are thinking about through the questions put to him by newsmen.

4. The President is being attacked because 1956 is a political year, but "I think that in time we'll be able to take care of these attacks."

5. The two "major overwhelming issues" in the campaign will be these: "That the administration has been moving from war toward peace more and more, and that the prosperity of our country is increasing."

6. Before Vice President Richard M. Nixon announced he would run again for the office, the "overwhelming majority" of mail received by the White House was favorable to him.

Rev. Dillworth Heads County Holiness Group

The Lancaster County Holiness Association has elected the Rev. R. M. Dillworth as president for 1956.

Other officers include:

First vice president, The Rev. L. L. Chambers.

Second vice president, the Rev. S. E. Myers.

Third vice president, the Rev. William P. Bancroft.

Recording secretary, Mrs. D. D. Jones.

Treasurer, Mrs. R. L. Jackson.

Corresponding secretary and pianist, Mrs. R. M. Dillworth.

Youths Arrested

Three youths were arrested over the weekend in connection with taking two hubcaps valued at $22 from a car owned by James A. Strauss of 3815 Touzalin while it was parked in the Cotner Terrace parking lot.

Residence Ransacked

Robert Nicholson of 2749 So. 12th, reported to police that $5 in cash was taken from his home and the residence was ransacked by unidentified burglars over the weekend.

NU Students Will Receive Awards At Dairy Banquet

Nearly 100 dairy awards will be given to University of Nebraska students at the Varsity Dairy club's annual recognition banquet, May 16.

Winners of dairy cattle judging and dairy products judging contests held last month will be announced.

In addition to individual awards, this year a traveling plaque will be given to the winning fraternity team or organized house in each contest, according to Robert G. Fossland, dairy husbandry instructor and club advisor.

Lawrence Liebers, of Lincoln, will be main speaker at the banquet. He is a graduate of the University dairy department.

Official judge for the cattle contest was Bob Johnson, dairy herdsman at Boys Town. P. A. Downs, University professor of dairy husbandry, judged the dairy products contest.

H-BLAST DATE DOUBT GROWS; WIND AGAIN

ABOARD USS MT. MCKINLEY.—Joint Task Force 7 weather forecasters said Monday there is scant chance to carry out the Shot Cherokee H-bomb test Wednesday morning—Tuesday U. S. time.

A morning communique said that conditions forecast for Tuesday and Wednesday "are not acceptable." The weatherman said there is little evidence of a favorable change by Wednesday morning "although such a possibility must not be ruled out."

The forecasters said that winds from the north, blowing over the target island in Bikini Atoll, would drop radioactive contamination on inhabited islands of the Marshalls from an H-bomb blast.

The tentative schedule of the blast for Wednesday was the seventh test postponement because of unfavorable winds. Another delay until Thursday now appears likely.

19 Naval Officers Check Local NAS

An inspection party of 19 high-ranking naval officers, headed by Rear Adm. Clarence L. C. Atkeson, are examining the adequacy and efficiency of the Lincoln Naval Air Station.

The survey party, from headquarters of the 9th Naval District at Chicago, evaluate management and operational adequacy of the local navy unit to perform its role in support of the fleet operating forces.

Although the visit was described as "routine" by Cmdr. F. H. Holt, commander of the Lincoln NAS, such an inspection is only conducted every two or three years.

Survey parties similar to the one visiting Lincoln are composed of technical experts in various fields of naval administration and management. Their reports are filed with the Secretary of the Navy, but no rating mark is published for the inspected facilities.

Cyprus' Chief Defies Threat Of Assassins

NICOSIA, Cyprus (P)—Sir John Harding, the British military governor of Cyprus, Sunday defied would-be assassins by showing up for regular Church of England services in this tense island capital.

Two soldier guards accompanied Harding as he worshipped with other Britishers. EOKA, the underground organization, has called upon all "patriotic" Greek Cypriots to kill Harding following the execution of two of their young compatriots as political gunmen.

While Harding attended church thousands of Greek Cypriots went quietly to Orthodox services throughout the island to mourn for the two dead men.

Only one incident marred the Sunday calm. A homemade bomb was tossed through the window of a security force billet at Famagusta, injuring two men, one seriously.

The British cracked down on the community of Paphos by imposing a $15,400 collective fine as punishment for the killing of a royal Marine commando last Wednesday. He died in a bomb explosion.

Youth, Thought In Missouri Robbery, Jailed As Vagrant

A 17-year-old St. Louis, Mo., youth, believed involved in an 8-cent armed robbery there was given a 10-day jail term after pleading guilty to a vagrancy charge in Lancaster County Court.

The youth and a 14-year-old girl were picked up by Nebraska Safety Patrolmen, while they were walking to Lincoln on U. S. 34.

A 25-caliber automatic pistol, taken from the youth and reported to be the same one used in the robbery, was shown to County Judge Herbert Ronin during the youth's arraignment.

The girl was placed in the county detention home after the filing of a juvenile delinquency and dependency complaint.

Authorities said the girl was carrying a knife, when picked up, and was on juvenile probation from St. Louis.

The youthful pair had hitchhiked their way to Lincoln after abandoning a car near Columbia, Mo., authorities said.

Authorities are waiting word from St. Louis on possible prosecution of the pair there. The youth has admitted the St. Louis robbery, according to the Patrol.

Temptation Too Great

Charles Knight of 5143 Cleveland, told police thieves stole his car and abandoned it, taking a camera and hatchet valued at $35.88.

Boy Accidentally Shoots Younger Brother In Finger

Seven-year-old Stephen Wilhelmson of 3518 So. 51st, accidentally shot his four-year-old brother, Tommie, in the middle finger of his right hand with a nine-shot revolver, police said.

The injured tot was taken to an attending physician who said the wound would probably not cause any permanent damage to the finger.

Police said Stephen found the loaded gun laying under the front seat of his father's car parked in the drive of the home.

The boys' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wilhelmson.

Three State News Women Honored

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Three Nebraska newspaper women received awards at the National Federation of Press Women at its meeting here.

Receiving a second place award was Reva R. Evans of Gordon for a news story "Hailstorm Bombs Area," which appeared in the Gordon Journal.

Third place awards went to Helen Green of Fairbury and Eleanor Seberger of Cozad.

Helen Green's award was for a series of three special articles on one subject, Dedication of Monument, which appeared in the Fairbury Journal.

Eleanor Seberger won her recognition for the best adult fiction in a newspaper. "Woman Who Wouldn't Stay Home." It appeared in the Omaha World Herald.

Mrs. Velma Price, president of the federation, presided. She is staff member of the Newman Grove, Neb., Reporter.

Tecumseh Rites For Mrs. Webb

TECUMSEH, Neb.—Services for Mrs. Marguerite Webb, 53, will be held at St. Andrew's Catholic Church here Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Webb, a native of Vesta, Neb., had lived in Tecumseh most of her life. She died Friday.

Surviving are her husband, Dewey; sons, William and Richard of Lincoln, James of Omaha, Lawrence of Hastings and Kenneth of Independence, Mo.; five grandchildren; her mother, Mrs. Pierie Murphy of Tecumseh; sisters, Mrs. Frank Thurber and Mrs. John Olson of Tecumseh and Mrs. Merl Cornell of Omaha, and a brother Lawrence Murphy of Tecumseh.

'Joan Of Arc' Proves Spectacular Music Event

By RUTH ARDIS

The appearance of Vera Zorina with the students of the Music Department of the University of Nebraska in Honegger's "Joan of Arc" proved to be the most spectacular single event of the season.

Dr. David Foltz directed the 500-voice chorus and the University Symphony Orchestra in the powerful and dramatic oratorio before a spellbound audience which filled the Coliseum Sunday evening.

Vera Zorina was the impressive interpreter of Joan of Arc, giving an unforgettable dramatic performance. Miss Zorina is remarkably gifted in portraying the maximum amount of emotion with her voice and expressive use of hands. Her excellent performance of the spoken lines revealed musicianship of high order.

Honegger's "Joan of Arc" combines the drama of music with that of the spoken word in much the same way as his "King David" which was presented here two years ago. Although both works are direct and powerful, the music of "Joan of Arc" is more subtle—the drama being interspersed with touches of satire and humor. Neither oratorio is extremely dissonant, but only as is necessary to portray drama and mood.

Combination

Contemporary music and old music are effectively combined. For example, the simple and most impressive chant, sung by the Boys' Town Choir and later by Miss Zorina, is the melody of a 15th century French folk-song "L'Homme arme." It was used by numerous composers of the mass in succeeding centuries.

Dr. Foltz, impressed with the simplicity and beauty of this "melody of the centuries" eliminated the orchestral accompaniment for several measures, allowing the nationally famous Boys' Town Choir to sing the beautiful melody without any accompanying harmonic support—the true setting for the Gregorian chant.

The orchestra had many striking passages as background to the spoken parts in addition to the demanding accompaniment to the choral passages. Both orchestra and chorus were well co-ordinated and gave a brilliant performance.

Equally outstanding were the soloists—Martha Longmire, Nancy Norman, Marilee Amundson, Franklin Barger and Hugh Rangelier. Jack Weststrand was outstanding in the narration of the role of Brother Dominic. Other narrators were Dale Ganz, Earl Jenkins and Doris Growcock.

Many departments of the University were involved. The University Convocations Committee collaborated with the Department of Music in bringing Miss Zorina to the campus. Assisting with preparations were Altinus Tullis, the Rev. Francis P. Schmidt, Earl Jenkins, Dr. Arthur Westbrook and Emanuel Wishnow. William Bush at the piano and Myron Roberts at the organ assisted with the accompaniments.

'Aware Of Modern'

In presenting the work, Dr. Foltz, chairman of the department of music, expressed the view that "it is our responsibility to be sure that the students are made aware of the great modern creative works of today as well as those of the past." It was obvious from the crowd's response that Nebraskans appreciate and accept such great contemporary works. A standing ovation for Miss Zorina and Dr. Foltz followed the tremendous applause at the conclusion of the performance.

Miss Zorina said after the Sunday night performance that she did the part "seeking artistic satisfaction" and that she found the performance here "complete and real" and never for a moment regretted making the trip here.

Two City Pastors Picked For NWU Alumni Presidency

Two Lincoln ministers have been nominated for the presidency of the Nebraska Wesleyan University Alumni Association. President Warren H. Parker of Lincoln said Sunday.

The Rev. Alfred V. Hunter, financial secretary of the Methodist board of conference claimants, will run against the Rev. Harold C. Sandall, pastor of Grace Methodist Church.

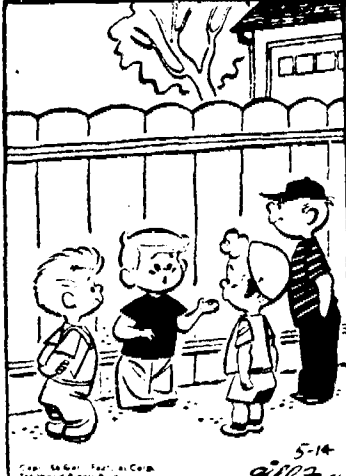

A secret nominating committee selected Richard W. Smith, Lincoln attorney and Mrs. William Parkin of Omaha as contestants for lay representative of the association on the Wesleyan board of trustees. The Rev. Bruce Gideon, pastor of Havelock Methodist Church and The Rev. Roy N. Spooner, pastor at Tecumseh, were nominated to run for ministerial representative on the board.

Harold Hare, of the State Department of Education and Charles E. Knight, Lincoln bank official, will run for the first vice presidency. William R. Carricker, State Department of Education employee, will oppose Jean Janke Johns, Lincoln housewife, for the second vice presidency; and Barbara Farmer Benedict, Lincoln housewife and Jennie Crook Harper, Lincoln housewife, will run for the third vice presidency.

Mrs. R. J. Cedardahl, Lincoln, is unopposed to succeed herself as secretary-treasurer of the association.

Parker said final tabulation of the ballots will take place at the association's annual meeting June 4. Announcement of the new officers will be made at the annual dinner meeting that night.

WILBERT

"Then it's okay... If they let us in on how to make a hydrogen bomb we'll give them the secret of our stench bomb!"

Student Speakers Named For LHS Commencement

Student speakers at the Lincoln High commencement June 8 will be Jo Ann Gabarron, Dick Basoco and Dick Seymour.

The seniors were chosen from eight finalists in oral tryouts. Miss Mary Sigler, speech teacher at Lincoln High, aided the students with their speeches, which could not exceed 10 minutes.

Jo Ann Gabarron will speak on "Parenthood—The Most Difficult Job." Basoco's topic is "The Future—What It Holds For Us." Seymour will explore "Independent Thinking."

The graduation will be held in Pinewood Bowl.

Mrs. Schmidt, 35, Dies After Illness

Mrs. Rosalie E. Schmidt, 35, of 1030 No. 48th, died Sunday after a three week illness.

Burial will be at St. Anthony's Cemetery at Steinauer.

A graduate of Steinauer High School, Mrs. Schmidt came to Lincoln in 1943 where she had been employed at the National Bank of Commerce for about 10 years.

She was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Surviving are her husband, Kenneth; son, William Craig Schmidt; mother, Mrs. Mary Bailey of Steinauer, father, Joseph Bailey of Hutchinson, Kan.; grandmother, Mrs. Betty Ann Bailey of Bennington, Okla., and a sister, Mrs. Nora Oswald of Beatrice.

India Educator To Visit Schools And 4-H Clubs

Mrs. Tara Bai, principal of Lady Irwin College in India, is in Lincoln this week to visit schools and 4-H clubs.

Mrs. Bai, who heads a Home Economics school, will also visit with three of her former students who are attending the University of Nebraska.

According to Mrs. Bai, Mrs. Robert Simmons has made it possible for four of her former students to attend the University on scholarships. Mrs. Simmons visited in India several years ago and became interested in Lady Irwin College, Mrs. Bai said.

Mrs. Bai will speak at a special luncheon for Red Cross volunteers Monday at the YWCA. She also plans to tour various educational institutions in the city.

Robert DeWitt President Of Library Association

Robert DeWitt of the University of Nebraska Libraries staff was elected president of the Lincoln Chapter of the American Library Association.

Lillian Ekblad was elected vice-president. Gwendolyn Kirkby is to be secretary, and Harriett Helms is the new treasurer.

The proposed new main library for the city was the subject of a panel discussion led by Charles Dalrymple, head of Lincoln city libraries. Other panel members were Miss Louise Nixon and Miss Annie Laurie Smith.

Two Lincoln Boys Plead Guilty To Mail Box Charge

Two Lincoln boys entered guilty pleas in Lancaster County Court to charges of malicious destruction in connection with the blowing up of four rural mail boxes.

The boys, 17 and 18, signed admissions before a postal inspector investigating the incident. They told the court the firecrackers used in the explosions were purchased in Missouri.

Judge Herbert A. Ronin deferred sentence until Thursday and ordered an investigation by Adult Probation Officer George H. Meyer, in an effort to obtain the "facts behind this thing."

Asst. U. S. Dist. Attorney Dean Wallace said his office would not prosecute if the county attorney's office would file charges against the pair.

Retired Merchant Gus Lococo Dies

Gus Lococo, 59, of 1430 Peach, a retired fruit merchant and lifetime resident of Lincoln, died Sunday.

Funeral services will be 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at Blessed Sacrament Church, Msgr. A. J. Kraemer officiating. Rosary will be 8 p.m. Tuesday at Hodgman-Spahn.

Mr. Lococo was a member of Christopher Columbus Society and Blessed Sacrament Church. Surviving are his wife, Lena; sons, Lawrence and Leonard, both of Lincoln; brother, James V. of Lincoln; sisters, Mrs. Sam Piazza and Mrs. Gus Gatto, both of Lincoln and Mrs. Joseph Messineo of Chicago, and three grandchildren.

If you are 65 or over... this concerns you DEEPLY!

If you have been refused insurance that would provide money for hospital bills, for operations, and for hospital extras simply because you are "over-age," you will want to read this announcement with great care. For now there is protection available to both men and women up to age 80.

Almost all accident and health insurance—in the past—has been limited to age 65. Of course, if you were already insured before reaching 65, it could be continued, but people who were 65 or over when they applied found the doors closed to them.

This is one of the subjects that has been of concern to President Eisenhower. He has constantly crusaded for broader coverage for older people because as we grow in years, all of us are more likely to need the doctor, the surgeon, or the hospital. And, costs of hospitalization have gone up so sharply in the past few years that few people living on a retirement pension, even with social security payments added, can afford the luxury of a hospital room.

Bankers Life and Casualty Company has made a profound study of this serious problem. As leaders in the field of Accident and Health Insurance we felt it was up to us to find a solution. As a result we have now developed a special policy that permits us to offer very fine protection to men and women right up to the age of 80 years, at rates that are carefully scaled down to the lowest possible amount for each age level.

This same fine policy is also available to younger people but it is especially interesting to those who have found that their age has deprived them of this protection.

Under this policy, P 6, if you are 65 or older and in good health, you can get benefits as high as $9.00 a day for hospital room and board. Or, if you prefer you can pay a lower rate and get hospital payments of $6.00 a day. If you are willing to share a room with others and want the lowest room rate, you pay a still lower premium for a $4.00 room allowance. And this allowance is paid for as long as 100 days for each sickness or accident covered by the policy. So, if you were in the hospital three months (or 100 days) at the $9.00 room rate, you would collect $900.00.

In addition to the room allowance, the policy provides specified payments for hospital extras such as operating room, electrocardiograms, blood tests, transfusions, oxygen, ambulance service, drugs, dressings, and medicines.

And then, in addition to all this it provides exact amounts for every different type of surgical operation, up to as high as $150.00.

The benefits for any accidental injury start the first day the policy is in force. Benefits for almost all illnesses start 30 days after the policy is issued. A few illnesses such as TB, heart, etc., have a waiting period of six months, but all these exceptions and limitations are clearly printed in the policy in large type.

As stated above, the rates are flexible. You can pay any of six different rates—depending on how much you want to have for hospital room allowance. And, the rates also vary with your present age. If you are 77 or 79, you pay one rate. If you are 73 to 77, you pay a lower rate. If you are 68 to 72, it is still lower, and it continues to drop according to your age. Regardless of the age at which you take out the policy, you may renew it, at the option of the company, right up to age 80.

But one thing to remember: The rate you pay at the beginning does not increase auto-

Two City Pastors Picked For NWU Alumni Presidency

Two Lincoln ministers have been nominated for the presidency of the Nebraska Wesleyan-University Alumni Association, President Warren H. Parker of Lincoln said Sunday.

The Rev. Alfred V. Hunter, financial secretary of the Methodist board of conference claimants, will run against The Rev. Harold C. Sandall, pastor of Grace Methodist Church.

A secret nominating committee selected Richard W. Smith, Lincoln attorney and Mrs. William Parkin of Omaha as contestants for lay representative of the association on the Wesleyan board of trustees. The Rev. Bruce Gideon, pastor of Havelock Methodist Church and The Rev. Roy N. Spooner, pastor at Tecumseh, were nominated to run for ministerial representative on the board.

Harold Hare, of the State Department of Education and Charles E. Knight, Lincoln bank official, will run for the first vice presidency; William R. Carricker, State Department of Education employee, will oppose Jean Janke Johns, Lincoln housewife, for the second vice presidency; and Barbara Farmer Benedict, Lincoln housewife and Jennie Crook Harper, Lincoln housewife will run for the third vice presidency.

Mrs. R. J. Cedardahl, Lincoln, is unopposed to succeed herself as secretary-treasurer of the association.

Parker said final tabulation of the ballots will take place at the association's annual meeting June 4. Announcement of the new officers will be made at the annual dinner meeting that night.

Welcoming Secretary Benson

It is understandable that the Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taff Benson wants to be in Washington when the new farm bill, which has already passed the House, comes up for consideration in the Senate. If Sen. Aiken speaks for the Secretary of Agriculture and the President the bill in its present form does not satisfy the administration. Aiken, top ranking member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, indicates he finds it objectionable.

For this reason Mr. Benson has postponed until later in May—or possibly early June—a planned trip to rural Iowa and Nebraska. Washington's dispatches say that Mr. Benson wants to make first-hand checks on farming conditions in these two states before the summer is over, another way of saying that he hopes to put out the fire, if there is any among the farm people. He will find Nebraska surprisingly green in the face of the absence of the normal amount of moisture. If he looks long and hard enough he will discover that rural Nebraska not only is a bit short of moisture but also of money.

The farm vote in this presidential year of 1956 rests on the lap of the gods. If crops are good and the harvest fulfills hopes, then Mr. Benson will be able to convince himself he has seen everything and it is good.

If crops are bad then Secretary Benson could find himself on the way out.

Rainbows In The Sky

Among Nebraskans doing a better job on the team is Sam Waugh. The house organ of the Burroughs Corporation shows Mr. Waugh, recently appointed president of the Export-Import Bank, seated at his desk three associates at his side. The magazine also carries an impressive article written by Mr. Waugh under the title "The Reinvigorated Export-Import Bank."

In its expanded program, of financing U.S. exports, the bank is facilitating commercial bank cooperation, the article states, a sorely-needed and neglected field.

Since its inception twenty-two years ago, the bank has always paid interest to the Treasury on the money borrowed, and the present rate is now 2 1/2 per cent, Mr. Waugh says in his article. In addition the bank for several years has paid 2 1/4 per cent, or $2.5 million in dividends on the original capital stock. In 1955 the bank paid the Treasury in dividends a dividend slightly over $48 million. Since 1934 when it was founded the Export-Import Bank has authorized in excess of $7 billion in credit in 65 countries, dispersed over $5 billion, and has collected in repayment 30 per cent. It has charged off losses to date of less than $500,000 or eight one-hundredths of one per cent of the money loaned. And it has accumulated a reserve of $397 millions after paying expenses, dividends and interest, a reserve which now fills the needs of a revolving fund.

Not bad, we would say.

On the contrary an achievement to be credited to a New Deal idea of surpassing significance. As its head Mr. Waugh enjoys the opportunity of writing a lot of most satisfying international history.

Each His Own Captive

It is not often now that Winston Churchill is heard on the pressing questions of world affairs. The great figure of the Western world whose personal leadership piloted England through the darkest moments of its modern history and whose great utterances and equally great acts provided the binder and the resolution that did so much to swing the Western world through war and post-war periods has laid aside the heavy responsibilities for the earned rewards of retirement.

But even yet when his voice is heard there is a good ring to it. And there is the feeling that a few years ago there were more gifted leaders than today.

The other day he made a comment. He said that things would really settle down when the North Atlantic Treaty Organization had been extended into a united Europe, including Russia.

Then he added that that was a dream and advised all not to lay a wager on it coming about.

Looking down the years of memory Churchill commented that Russia is essentially oriental. Its philosophy does not square with that of Europe and the West. The barrier is too great. He could not see a harmonizing of minds in any calculable space of time.

With the privilege of age Mr. Churchill denied his own dream. But his words, nevertheless, had benefit. With great clarity he outlined the essential cause for world tension and in doing so suggested the remedial course of action. He simplified the problem—a paradox, one of differing cultures which feed their own differentiation—a vicious circle to which both East and West contribute.

Perhaps the Churchillian words suggest a new point of beginning—one in which the East and West refrain from attempts to square a relationship by bargaining the details, and proceed first to an agreement upon philosophical differences. The first step seems to be one of realizing that two parts of the world of deeply held differing views are captives to themselves and must free themselves of their own chains before they are ready to resolve any of the issues that are before them. It is never prudent to dismiss the old statesman's words lightly.

It Doesn't Follow

Of all the branches of American government the one least changed by the impact of time and national change is the United States supreme court. It rolls along pretty much in the original character imparted to it by the great early day jurist John Marshall. Perhaps because of that there are always planners around seeking to make it over.

Most recent attempt was turned in by Senator George A. Smathers of Florida. He has asked Congress to require at least five years experience on an inferior bench as a prerequisite to appointment to the high court.

Some may see plausibility in an argument that more professional experience is a good thing. But the record does not verify that great justices were made by previous court experience. If the Smathers requirement had been in from the start 12 of the nation's 14 chief justices would have never sat on the court. We would never have heard of John Marshall, Roger Taney or Charles Evans Hughes.

It does not follow that the inferior courts have a monopoly on the great and judicious minds nor does it follow that narrowing the field is any way to get the best.

Significant Deal

There was not much fanfare when the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation district refunded its debt last week—a matter of refinancing a $33,204,000 obligation. The initial debt based on a WPA loan was transferred later to the federal General Services Administration which bought the new bonds. But the transaction was an event of significance. The refunding adjusted the obligations to the conditions of a mature enterprise—a proven venture which has demonstrated the certainty of being around permanently. The refunding also acknowledged the economic validity of the district. Nebraska has come a long way since the middle thirties when the great public programs were mostly dreams.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

"Sen. Carl Curtis said Tuesday that Chairman Kirwan (D-O) of the sub-committee was not in favor of the project."—Extract from an Associated Press story expressing a growing feeling that Nebraskans are kidding themselves in believing the Eisenhower administration will provide funds for construction of a transmission line from the Ft. Randall Dam to Grand Island.

Sen. Curtis could be right. Although generally a sympathetic advocate of public power, it would not be surprising if Rep. Kirwan had his knife out for Nebraska when it came to Uncle Sam providing funds for Nebraska's expanding public power program. The underground has it, and this is what Sen. Curtis did not reveal, that not only Kirwan but quite a number of his colleagues in the House are more than a little bit fed up with the Nebraska delegation. It is never hesitant in asking for the appropriation of funds in undertakings in which this state is interested. Then, so the word goes around the cloakrooms, when some of Nebraska's sister states plead for recognition for their needs, the Nebraskans gang up to vote against them. We were told recently while back in Washington that Kirwan had said that from here on in he was going to vote against anything Nebraska asked. In doing so he was only following the attitude the Nebraska delegation has shown the last two years. And others would join him. If true it could be serious.

Of course talk is cheap and there is no place in the world where men derive a greater enjoyment from wagging their tongues than in Washington. But this is a presidential year, a year when any community, state, or group of individuals can expect to hear no less than a million kind words intended only for the purpose of wooing votes. The Eisenhower administration has shown a real genius when it came to spreading promises all over the landscape. That promise of a transmission line from Ft. Randall Dam to Grand Island was one of these flowers which bloom in the Spring—tra la and wither in the fall after the frost which follows the November election.

Scarcely of late, there is this chat about a badly needed transmission line to bring power to Nebraska farms and Nebraska towns was a statement attributed to the outstanding head of the Corps of Army Engineers, Gen. Sturgis, a straight talking, most competent, far-sighted man. Gen. Sturgis, one of the ablest ever to occupy the post of head of the agency, was quoted as saying that in the matter of river basin development to eliminate destructive floods, there had been a lag. How right can a man be? Gen. Sturgis is just 100 per cent right if he has in mind the lack of progress in developing flood control programs since President Eisenhower moved into the White House. This partnership plan that the administration emphasizes sounds well, but it is the bunk when comes to making dirt fly, storing vast amounts of water, and training unruly rivers to live within their banks.

It is too late in New England and possibly in northern California. Speaking of the partnership did the reader notice that Gen. Potter of the Army Corps of Engineers said that the lower Missouri Basin states, pointing the finger at Kansas and Missouri—were dragging their feet when it came to the broad program of flood control. We hardly expected Gen. Potter to say that, but we're glad that he did. It so needs the saying.

GOP Pressure Bent Sen. George

WASHINGTON — Now that the venerable and revered Senator George of Georgia has announced his intention to retire from the Senate and become Eisenhower's ambassador to NATO, an important hitherto undisclosed incident involving Senator George and the White House can be revealed.

Senator George recently wound up the chairmanship of a special committee to investigate the $2,500,000 offered to Sen. Francis Case (R-MD) during the natural gas battle of the late Howard B. Keck of Nebraska.

During the investigation, the committee unearthed another check for twice that money from the same H. B. Keck, this one given to the Eisenhower dinner table in the middle of the Senate's gas debate. Unlike Senator Case, who returned the $2,500, the $5,000 from Keck was not returned by the Republican National Committee nor by the White House.

On separate process, it was learned that Sen. George had taken the $5,000 check to the White House. He had not taken it to the public. Since the committee had been set back by the gas debate, the check was not given to the Eisenhower dinner table. The larger gift to the Eisenhower dinner should be disclosed in order to indicate the general pattern of the gas lobby.

WHY IKE VETOED

There was also some Senate testimony that President Eisenhower in his veto message should impugn the morality of the Senate at the same time that it was a money-grubbing had received the light in the middle of the gas debate.

It was the fear that the Senate committee might make public the Keck check that materially influenced the President's decision to veto the gas bill.

In the end, however, Senator George did not make the $5,000 contribution to the Eisenhower dinner public. He and the committee decided they should stick close to the question of the $2,500 offered by Keck to Senator Case, and not go into the Keck gift to more important people.

Keck's check for $5,000, dated Jan. 10, 1956, was on the City National Bank of Houston. It was check number 91 and was signed "H. B. Keck" from his office on the 17th floor, Flatiron building, Los Angeles, Calif. This address was printed on one end of the check.

It was not surprising to see whether the check involving committee headed by Senator McClellan of Kansas, which was set up to investigate the gas lobby, was a check for $5,000.

CAMPAIGN FUNDS

Campaign contributions show a heavy weight in the backstage operation of the U.S. government, even if it is the far-outrage of the proffered $2,500 to Senator Case has been reported down.

Senator McClellan of Kansas, who was set up to investigate the gas lobby, was a check for $5,000. It was also contributed to the GOP campaign.

CAMPAIGN MANAGERS

Campaign managers also have a way of influencing what a senator does or says.

Take the case of Joe McClellan, one of the most active members of the Senate. He is a member of the U.S. Senate and is a member of the U.S. Senate and is a member of the U.S. Senate.

These come from Wisconsin and Joe has been urging not 90 per cent, but 100 per cent party to help Wisconsin dairy farmers. It was only natural, therefore, for him to raise about the $2,500,000 windfall profit that the cheese processors made out of Ezra Benson at the expense of the farmer and the taxpayer.

Suddenly, however, Joe said on absolutely nothing has been heard from him for months about the cheese scandal.

BOB CONSIDINE

Americans Are Changed People

A BOARD MT. MCKINLEY, ATOMIC PROVING GROUND. At Kwajalein the other day, while waiting for a plane that would carry us into the atomic proving ground, a big Connie pulled up to the ramp in front of the neat terminal, opened its doors and in poured 800 Americans who had been waiting patiently for several hours.

It was a semi-poignant scene, somehow. About a third of the passengers were children, including some in arms. An Air Force sergeant put a protective arm around his little daughter with the cute horse-tail hair-do. The mother shepherd two fine little sons up the stairway. They were off, as were the others, to some new assignment on some new island across the world from the little town the mother and father had known. The kids would go to school there and remember a jungle as others of their ages remember Main Street.

What an incredible change has overcome us in 15 fleeting years! It seems a thousand years ago that selective service squeezed through Congress by the margin of a single vote, yet it was just before Pearl Harbor was attacked. It seems an equally long time ago that there was serious debate among serious people that the U.S. could remain neutral, isolationist, indifferent, "A pox on both their houses."

Now there is hardly a place on the face of the earth that is not marked by an American flag, an American structure, an American grave. In a split moment of time, as time is measured historically, we have taken over (from the British) the so-called White Man's Burden. And you can still hear their sigh of relief. With hardly a colonial minded drop of blood in our veins we have become colonizers without compare.

A people who once complained bitterly if the not water was just right at the Ritz in Paris now has penicillin where plumbing is as unknown as tomato soup and the language we speak as eccentric as Urdu. We build airfields, teach school, show people what end of a hoe to use, and jab wonder drugs in arms of assorted colors in places that weren't in our best atlases a few short years ago.

MARQUIS CHILDS

NATO Words Are Replacing Deeds

WASHINGTON — In foreign policy, the atmosphere in the West today is one of increasing unreality. In a kind of twilight zone, we are not only willing but eager to accept the shadow for the substance, the word for the deed.

That this is a dangerous way to live goes without saying. Either for individuals or for nations to retreat from reality and the hard facts of life is a sign of failure.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization has for a long time been ailing. Behind all the brave words about unity and strength, the military front of NATO has been withering away. France has left scarcely more than 5,000 troops in the NATO force, the rest having been pulled out to fight a guerrilla war in Algeria that almost no one believes the French can win.

Of the 30 divisions on paper in Western Europe, at the most 12 are real — five American, three British and a scattering of others. Ten probably would be nearer the truth. After six years of discussion, the German divisions are a long way from existence.

If this deterioration of the planned military front were the worst that could be said, the plight of the Western Alliance might not seem so grim. The divisions in being are a "colossal glass window." And while Soviet Russia apparently has given up any idea of throwing rocks through that window, still it is valuable to use an overworked word, to have a deterrent on the East.

What has been happening — or, rather, not happening — behind the plate glass window is the deeply disturbing aspect. To put it as simply as possible, the Alliance has failed to take the steps for unity and cohesion that would have made Europe a strong force politically and economically.

The fundamental fact was that the old, burning problems of poverty and surplus population could not be solved within national boundaries by nation states going it alone. Plans and proposals were debated. The Organization for European Economic Cooperation came into being and did some effective analysis and coordination. But the effort fell pitifully short of what was required.

Now the formal step has been taken — it should have come at least two years ago and, better still, four or five years ago — to try to develop the political potentiality of NATO.

The ballyhoo that accompanied the move in this country tended to make it sound as though something new and wonderful already had been created. But there were sharp differences at the meeting of NATO foreign ministers in Paris, with a large doubt remaining as to whether NATO as a political organization could perform any real function at this late stage.

Three foreign ministers, already labeled the "Three Wise Men," have been named to come up with the answers. They will have to be wise, indeed, to develop an acceptable program.

BILL DOBLER At City Hall

Tempest In A Dumping Spot

Mayor Clark Jeary has started the ball rolling on another one of the final phases of the new Pershing Memorial Auditorium.

The importance of this step, a appointment of a board of managers, cannot be over-emphasized. This is the group which will have a direct bearing on the financial success or failure of this new venture for Lincoln into the world of theatrics, show business in general and convention activities.

Bill Dobler

There is one major pitfall in a board-and-manager arrangement for operation which should be avoided as far as possible through selection of the right board members. Members of the board will have to be men of business experience, to be sure, but even more, they must be capable of making an independent decision and sticking with it.

It should be the purpose of the board to establish policy along certain lines such as space rental rates. It will be the responsibility of the manager to operate the auditorium.

If the board seeks to take the operational responsibility away from the manager, then chaos will result.

Also, if the board is prone to alter its policy according to momentary expediency, the results will be disastrous. A firm and as nearly as possible an unalterable set of rules governing the use and operation of the building will have to be established. Without this, the schedule of rentals would be a farce and the revenue side of the auditorium ledger would suffer a serious loss.

When the city decided to locate its new dump on a large tract of land north of Havelock, it walked right into a hornets nest. Whether done on purpose or not — and there is at least the suspicion that it was — the fact that the decision was made without prior public notice made matters even worse.

Wellness and Safety Director Emmett Jungo affirms the city had no intention of hiding anything from the public. The location selected, he said, seemed like a very good spot and no objection to it was anticipated.

Perhaps Jungo is right in his explanation but that doesn't remove the error of what was done. The city, as a matter of fact, should have known that location of a dump in almost any place is likely to bring some objection. Not that the objection would necessarily eliminate any particular location but it would bring more of the considerations involved before the Council prior to a final decision.

As the present situation now stands, the people who object to the new dump site not only have what they don't want but they were given no opportunity to express themselves before it was too late. The fact that they were denied their right to be heard at the proper time is just about as objectionable as the dump itself.

Regardless of the merits or disadvantages of the dump location north of town, the city pulled a boner when it failed to give public notice of its intended location. A lot of people have the idea that the city tried to slip one over on them and they may not be too far wrong. Certainly, the problem is greater now than it would have been if handled right in the beginning.

There is probably not a single honest public official who will not agree that understanding is a wonderful thing.

Of the many complaints that are made to city officials, a great percentage are satisfied after all the facts involved have been explained. Such was the case recently with a citizen who had a complaint on sidewalk parking.

While called "sidewalk parking," it means parking either between the curb and sidewalk or the sidewalk and a building on city-owned property. In this case, it involved parking between the walk and a building.

The citizen was justly upset when he went to discuss his matter with police Capt. Orren Graves. The citizen claimed to have known of a case where cars parked between the sidewalk and a building were given parking tickets. With that he wanted ticketed cars belonging to policemen parked between the sidewalk and the municipal garage.

The man was treated by Graves in a most courteous manner and given a full explanation of the policy under which the Police Department operates in regards to sidewalk parking. With a new understanding of all the circumstances, the citizen seemed satisfied that no mistake was being done. He learned that cars between sidewalks and buildings are not ticketed in areas where there is no limit on curb parking. If this policy was violated in the case mentioned by the man, Capt. Graves stated it was simply a mistake and would mean no parking fine assessment.

The citizen even learned that he could park his own car in any of the areas between the sidewalk and a building where such parking was permitted, including the space next to the municipal garage. Graves did a commendable job of public relations and proved again that there are relatively few complaints that cannot be satisfied when all the facts are known.

Write In Adlai

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I shall write Adlai Stevenson's name on my ballot and put "N" in the little box to be sure to vote for him.

When I heard him give his acceptance speech at Chicago in 1952 I realized that he was the most outstanding and gifted presidential candidate that I had heard over radio or television.

In these complex times we need a man of such intellect and ability to guide our nation.

Our Jury System

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: This writer isn't one of the few who believes that our Republican farmer and town friends have got enough punishment from the present administration, down at Washington to desert Eisenhower and Benson. Not until the seat of their pants is gone and no cloth in the house to do the patchwork, do they vote Democratic.

They are not all broke yet. Most of them made enough money under Democratic administrations over a period of twenty years, to stand a still greater disappointment. They voted for what they are getting and hate to acknowledge it by voting Democratic until their last cent is gone.

Eisenhower and Benson could have come up with a farm measure that would have meant something to the great majority of farmers, but they didn't. Whenever the time comes that the farmers who do the glutting of the markets are cut off from all benefits at the hands of the government and the little farmers are granted helpful benefits, our surpluses will then cease. It never has been the little fellow who created surpluses. But he is the one that will be punished under the Benson-Eisenhower program. The soil program will do it.

It will inevitably force the little fellow out of business and the small town merchants with him. Some of them are already readying the signs that sheriffs will be patrolling their doors.

Bond Issues
Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: A recent letter signed by a GI home-owner mentioned the difficulty of young couples in affording the facilities to be provided for by the bond issues to be decided upon June 26. I am another young GI home-owner who is going to vote for the June 26 bond issues and particularly the hospital proposal and here is why. Of what value is my home or lower taxes if my wife, my children, myself do not have available in time of emergency, adequate and modern hospital facilities?

The newest technological and medical equipment, skilled physicians and technicians are not available? How valuable is my health and accident insurance if my community hospital facilities are inadequate, unmodern or if such facilities are not immediately available in time of emergency or need?

Nor is it logical to anticipate economy by going out of town or elsewhere for medical care. In case of illness or emergency, I want the medical facilities immediately available.

The $7 a year total tax increase which the hospital plan will cost me is more than worth it to me. I live in Lincoln because I like it here. Improvement of the community has made my property more valuable. The wage increases I have received from my employer during the past year have more than covered such a tax increase. I refer in particular to the Parker murder trial in which so much scientific and medical testimony was given. It seems appalling that many people hold the idea that psychiatrists are not to be taken seriously and that their testimony and observations should be disregarded.

We all enjoyed speeches by Governor Anderson, Mayor Jeary, Post Office Department Representative Alfred J. Dumas, Post Office Inspector Moore, and Postmaster Jerner. Our National Association of Letter Carriers was represented by George A. Bang and James K. Langan. The Ladies Auxiliary was addressed by their National President, Mrs. Arnette Ellerman of Glendale, California.

We also wish to express our gratitude to all businessmen and others who helped make this convention a complete success and certainly sent each visitor back to his home feeling that Lincoln was the Most Hospitable City in the world.

Welcoming Secretary Benson

It is understandable that the Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson wants to be in Washington when the new farm bill, which has already passed the House, comes up for consideration in the Senate. If Sen. Aiken speaks for the Secretary of Agriculture and the President the bill in its present form does not satisfy the administration. Aiken, top ranking member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, indicates he finds it objectionable.

For this reason Mr. Benson has postponed until later in May—or possibly early June—a planned trip to rural Iowa and Nebraska. Washington's dispatches say that Mr. Benson wants to make first-hand checks on farming conditions in these two states before the summer is over, another way of saying that he hopes to put out the fire, if there is any among the farm people. He will find Nebraska surprisingly green in the face of the absence of the normal amount of moisture. If he looks long and hard enough he will discover that rural Nebraska not only is a bit short of moisture but also of money.

The farm vote in this presidential year of 1956 rests on the lap of the gods. If crops are good and the harvest fulfills hopes, then Mr. Benson will be able to convince himself he has seen everything and it is good.

If crops are bad then Secretary Benson could find himself on the way out.

Rainbows In The Sky

Among Nebraskans doing a better job on Ike's team is Sam Waugh. The house organ of the Burroughs Corporation shows Mr. Waugh, recently appointed president of the Export-Import Bank, seated at his desk, three associates at his side. The magazine also carries an impressive article written by Mr. Waugh under the title "The Reinvented Export-Import Bank."

In its expanded program, of financing U.S. exports, the bank is cultivating commercial bank cooperation, the article states, a sorely-needed and neglected field.

Since its inception twenty-two years ago, the Bank has always paid interest to the Treasury on the money borrowed, and the present rate is now 2½ per cent, Mr. Waugh says in his article. In addition the Bank for several years has paid 2¼ per cent, or $22.5 million in dividends on the original capital stock. In 1933 the Bank paid the Treasury in dividends and interest slightly over $48 million. Since 1934 when it was founded the Export-Import Bank has authorized in excess of $7 billion in credit in 65 countries, dispersed over $5 billion, and has collected in repayment 50 per cent. It has charged off losses to date of less than $300,000 or eight one-hundredths of one per cent of the money loaned. And it has accumulated a reserve of $397 millions after paying expenses, dividends and interest, a reserve which now fills the needs of a revolving fund.

Not bad, we would say.

On the contrary an achievement to be credited to a New Deal idea of surpassing significance. As its head Mr. Waugh enjoys the opportunity of writing a lot of most satisfying international history.

Each His Own Captive

It is not often now that Winston Churchill is heard on the pressing questions of world affairs. The great figure of the Western world whose personal leadership piloted England through the darkest moments of its modern history and whose great utterances and equally great acts provided the binder and the resolution that did so much to swing the Western world through war and post-war periods has laid aside the heavy responsibilities for the earned rewards of retirement.

But even yet when his voice is heard there is a good reason to it. And there is the feeling that a few years ago there were more gifted leaders than today.

The other day he made a comment. He said that things would really settle down when the North Atlantic Treaty Organization had been extended into a unified Europe, including Russia.

Then he added that that was a dream and advised all not to lay a wager on it coming about.

Looking down the years of memory Churchill commented that Russia is essentially oriental. Its philosophy does not square with that of Europe and the West. The barrier is too great. He could not see a harmonizing of minds in any calculable space of time.

With the privilege of age Mr. Churchill denied his own dream. But his words, nevertheless, had benefit. With great clarity he outlined the essential cause for world tension and in doing so suggested the remedial course of action. He simplified the problem—a paradox, one of differing cultures which feed their own differentiation, —a vicious circle to which both East and West contribute.

Perhaps the Churchillian words suggest a new point of beginning—one in which the East and West refrain from attempts to square a relationship by bargaining the details, and proceed first to an agreement upon philosophical differences. The first step seems to be one of realizing that two parts of the world of deeply held differing views are captives to themselves and must free themselves of their own chains before they are able to resolve any of the issues that are between them. It is never prudent to dismiss the old statesman's words lightly.

It Doesn't Follow

Of all the branches of American government the one least changed by the impact of time and national change is the United States supreme court. It rolls along pretty much in the original character imparted to it by the great early day jurist John Marshall. Perhaps because of that there are always planners around seeking to make it over.

Most recent attempt was turned in by Senator George A. Smathers of Florida. He has asked Congress to require at least five years experience on an inferior bench as a prerequisite to appointment to the high court.

Some may see plausibility in an argument that more professional experience is a good thing. But the record does not verify that great justices were made by previous court experience. If the Smathers requirement had been in from the start 12 of the nation's 14 chief justices would have never sat on the court. We would never have heard of John Marshall, Roger Taney or Charles Evans Hughes.

It does not follow that the inferior courts have a monopoly on the great and judicious minds nor does it follow that narrowing the field is any way to get the best.

GOP Pressure Bent Sen. George

WASHINGTON — Now that the venerable and revered Senator George of Georgia has announced his intention to retire from the Senate and become Eisenhower's ambassador to NATO, an important, hitherto undisclosed incident involving Senator George and the White House can be revealed.

Senator George recently wound up the chairmanship of a special committee to investigate the $2,500 offered to Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) during the natural gas battle on behalf of Howard B. Keck of Superior Oil.

During the investigation, the committee unearthed another check for twice that money from the same H. B. Keck, this one given to the Eisenhower dinner right in the middle of the Senate's gas debate. Unlike Senator Case, who returned the $2,500, the $5,000 from Keck was not returned by the Republican National Committee nor by the White House.

Considerable pressure was brought on Senator George's committee by the White House not to make this contribution public. Some committee members felt that since the gift to Case came from exactly the same H. B. Keck and Superior Oil, the larger gift to the Eisenhower dinner should be disclosed in order to indicate the general pattern of the gas lobby.

WHY IKE VETOED

There was also some Senate resentment that President Eisenhower in his veto message should impugn the morality of the Senate at the same time that his own money-raisers had received twice as much as Senator Case rejected, right in the middle of the gas debate.

It was the fear that the Senate committee might make public the Keck check that materially influenced the President's decision to veto the gas bill.

In the end, however, Senator George did not make the $5,000 contribution to the Eisenhower dinner public. He and the committee decided they should stick close to the question of the $2,500 offered by Keck to Senator Case, and not go into the Keck gift to more important people.

Keck's check for $5,000, dated Jan. 10, 1956, was on the City National Bank of Houston. It was check number 951 and was signed "H. B. Keck" from his office on the 7th floor, Edison building, Los Angeles, Calif. This address was printed on one end of the check.

It will be interesting to see whether the new lobbying committee, headed by Senator McClellan of Arkansas, which is supposed to probe all phases of lobbying, will now make public the Keck check.

CAMPAIGN FUNDS

Campaign contributions still carry weight in the backstage operations of the U. S. government, even though the furor over the proffered $2,500 to Senator Case has simmered down.

Senator McClellan of Arkansas didn't bother to dig into it, but North American Airlines not only retained Murray Chotiner, campaign manager and closest political adviser of Vice President Nixon, but also contributed to the GOP campaign.

CAMPAIGN MANAGERS

Campaign managers also have a way of influencing what a senator does or says.

Take the case of Joe McCarthy, one of the most vocal members of the world's greatest debating body. Joe is inclined to hold forth on all sorts of subjects, and at one time started to declaim on the subject of the cheese scandal.

Cheese comes from Wisconsin and Joe has been urging not 90 per cent, but 100 per cent parity to help Wisconsin dairy farmers. It was only natural, therefore, for him to raise Cain about the $2,000,000 windfall profit that the cheese processors made out of Ezra Benson at the expense of the farmer and the taxpayer.

Suddenly, however, Joe shut up. Absolutely nothing has been heard from him for months about the cheese scandal.

Americans Are Changed People

A BOARD MT. MCKINLEY, ATOMIC PROVING GROUND — At Kwajalein the other day, while waiting for a plane that would carry us into the atomic proving ground, a big Connie pulled up to the ramp in front of the neat terminal, opened its doors and in poured 80 Americans who had been waiting patiently for several hours.

It was a semi-poignant scene, somehow. About a third of the passengers were children, including some in arms. An Air Force sergeant put a protective arm around his little daughter with the cute horse-tail hair-do. The mother shepherded two fine little sons up the stairway. They were off, as were 100 others, to some new assignment on some new island across the world from the little town the mother and father had known. The kids would go to school there and remember a jungle as others of their ages remember Main Street.

What an incredible change has overcome us in 15 fleeting years! It seems a thousand years ago that selective service squeezed through Congress by the margin of a single vote, yet it was just before Pearl Harbor was attacked. It seems an equally long time ago that there was serious debate among serious people that the U.S. could remain neutral, isolationist, indifferent. "A pox on both their houses..."

Now there is hardly a place on the face of the earth that is not marked by an American family, an American structure, an American grave. In a split moment of time, as time is measured historically, we have taken over (from the British) the so-called White Man's Burden. And you can still hear their sigh of relief. With hardly a colonial minded drop of blood in our veins we have become colonizers without compare.

A people who once complained bitterly if the hot water wasn't just right at the Ritz in Paris now has protocols where plumbing is as unknown as tomato soup and the language we speak as eccentric as Urdu. We build airfields, teach school, show people what end of a hoe to use, and jab wonder drugs in arms of assorted colors in places that weren't in our best atlases a few short years ago.

NATO Words Are Replacing Deeds

WASHINGTON — In foreign policy, the atmosphere in the West today is one of increasing unreality. In a kind of twilight zone, we are not only willing but eager to accept the shadow for the substance, the word for the deed.

That this is a dangerous way to live goes without saying. Either for individuals or for nations to retreat from reality and the hard facts of life is a sign of failure.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization has for a long time been ailing. Behind all the brave words about unity and strength, the military front of NATO has been withering away. France has left scarcely more than 5,000 troops in the NATO force, the rest having been pulled out to fight a guerrilla war in Algeria that almost no one believes the French can win.

Of the 30 divisions on paper in Western Europe, at the most 12 are real — five American, three British and a scattering of others. Ten probably would be nearer the truth. After six years of discussion, the German divisions are a long way from existence.

If this deterioration of the planned military front were the worst that could be said, the plight of the Western Alliance might not seem so grim. The divisions in being are a "plate glass window." And while Soviet Russia apparently has given up any idea of throwing rocks through that window, still it is valuable, to use an overworked word, to have a deterrent on the East.

What has been happening — or, rather, not happening — behind the plate glass window is the deeply disturbing aspect. To put it as simply as possible, the Alliance has failed to take the steps for unity and cohesion that would have made Europe a strong force politically and economically.

The fundamental fact was that the old, haunting problems of poverty and surplus population could not be solved within national boundaries by nation states going it alone. Plans and proposals were debated. The Organization for European Economic Cooperation came into being and did some effective analysis and coordination. But the effort fell pitifully short of what was required.

Now the formal step has been taken — it should have come at least two years ago and, better still, four or five years ago — to try to develop the political potentiality of NATO.

The ballyhoo that accompanied the move in this country tended to make it sound as though something new and wonderful already had been created. But there were sharp differences at the meeting of NATO foreign ministers in Paris, with a large doubt remaining as to whether NATO as a political organization could perform any real function at this late stage.

Three foreign ministers, already labeled the "Three Wise Men," have been named to come up with the answers. They will have to be wise, indeed, to develop an acceptable program.

BILL DOBLER At City Hall

Tempest In A Dumping Spot

Mayor Clark Jeary has started the ball rolling on another and one of the final phases of the new Pershing Memorial Auditorium.

The importance of this step, a appointment of a board of managers, cannot be over-emphasized. This is the group which will have a direct bearing on the financial success or failure of this new venture for Lincoln into the world of theatrics, show business in general and convention activities.

Bill Dobler

There is one major pitfall in a board-and-manager arrangement for operation which should be avoided as far as possible through selection of the right board members. Members of the board will have to be men of business experience, to be sure, but even more, men capable of making an independent decision and sticking with it.

It should be the purpose of the board to establish policy along certain lines such as space rental rates. It will be the responsibility of the manager to operate the auditorium.

If the board seeks to take the operational responsibility away from the manager, then chaos will result.

Also, if the board is prone to alter its policy according to momentary expediency, the results will be disastrous. A firm and as nearly as possible an unalterable set of rules governing the use and operation of the building will have to be established. Without this, the schedule of rentals would be a farce and the revenue side of the auditorium ledger would suffer a serious loss.

When the city decided to locate its new dump on a large tract of land north of Havelock, it walked right into a hornets nest. Whether done on purpose or not — and there is at least the suspicion that it was — the fact that the decision was made without prior public notice made matters even worse.

Welfare and Safety Director Emmett Junge affirms the city had no intention of hiding anything from the public. The location selected, he said, seemed like a very good spot and no objection to it was anticipated.

Perhaps Junge is right in his explanation but that doesn't remove the error of what was done. The city, as a matter of fact, should have known that location of a dump in almost any place is likely to bring some objection. Not that the objection would necessarily eliminate any particular location but it would bring more of the considerations involved before the Council prior to a final decision.

As the present situation now stands, the people who object to the new dump site not only have what they don't want but they were given no opportunity to express themselves before it was too late. The fact that they were denied their right to be heard at the proper time is just about as objectionable as the dump itself.

Regardless of the merits or disadvantages of the dump location north of town, the city pulled a boner when it failed to give public notice of its intended location. A lot of people have the idea that the city tried to slip one over on them and they may not be too far wrong. Certainly, the problem is greater now than it would have been if handled right in the beginning.

There is probably not a single honest public official who will not agree that understanding is a wonderful thing.

Of the many complaints that are made to city officials, a great percentage are satisfied after all the facts involved have been explained. Such was the case recently with a citizen who had a complaint on sidewalk parking.

While called "sidewalk parking," it means parking either between the curb and sidewalk or the sidewalk and a building on city-owned property. In this case, it involved parking between the walk and a building.

The citizen was justly upset when he went to discuss his matter with police Capt. Orren Graves. The citizen claimed to have known of a case where cars parked between the sidewalk and a building were given parking tickets. With that, he wanted ticketed cars belonging to policemen parked between the sidewalk and the municipal garage.

The man was treated by Graves in a most courteous manner and given a full explanation of the policy under which the Police Department operates in regards to sidewalk parking. With a new understanding of all the circumstances, the citizen seemed satisfied that no injustice was being done. He learned that cars between sidewalks and buildings are not ticketed in areas where there is no limit on curb parking. If this policy was violated in the case mentioned by the man, Capt. Graves stated it was simply a mistake and would mean no parking fine assessment.

The citizen even learned that he could park his own car in any of the areas between the sidewalk and a building where such parking was permitted, including the space next to the municipal garage.

Graves did a commendable job of public relations and proved again that there are relatively few complaints that cannot be satisfied when all the facts are known.

Write In Adlai

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I shall write Adlai Stevenson's name on my ballot and put "X" in the little box to be sure to vote for him.

When I heard him give his acceptance speech at Chicago in 1952 I realized that he was the most outstanding and gifted presidential candidate that I had heard over radio or television.

In these complex times we need a man of such intellect and ability to guide our nation.

Our Jury System

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Is our present jury system fair? Shouldn't there be some mental yardstick whereby the qualifications and IQ of potential jurors could be measured?

I refer in particular to the Parker murder trial in which so much scientific and medical testimony was given. It seems appalling that many people hold the idea that psychiatrists are not to be taken seriously and that their testimony and observations should be disregarded.

The Little Farmer

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: This writer isn't one of those who believes that our Republican farmer and town friends have got enough punishment down at Washington to desert Eisenhower and Benson. Not until the seat of their pants is gone and no cloth in the house to do the patchwork, do they vote Democratic.

They are not all broke yet. Most of them made enough money under Democratic administrations over a period of twenty years, to stand a little greater disappointment. They voted for what they are getting and hate to acknowledge it by voting Democratic until their last cent is gone.

Eisenhower and Benson could have come up with a farm measure that would have meant something to the great majority of farmers, but they didn't.

Whenever the time comes that the farmers who do the glutting of the markets are cut off from all benefits at the hands of the government and the little farmers are granted helpful benefits, our surpluses will then cease. It never has been the little fellow who created surpluses. But he is the one that will be punished under the Benson-Eisenhower program. The soil program will do it.

It will inevitably force the little fellow out of business and the small town merchants with him. Some of them are already reading the signs that sheriffs will be pasting on their doors.

Bond Issues

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: A recent letter signed by a GI home-owner mentioned the difficulty of young couples in affording the facilities to be provided for by the bond issues to be decided upon June 26. I am another young GI home-owner who is going to vote for the June 26 bond issues and particularly the hospital proposal and here is why.

Of what value is my home or lower taxes if my wife, my children, myself do not have available in time of emergency, adequate and modern hospital facilities?

ties? If the newest technological and medical equipment, skilled physicians and technicians are not available? How valuable is my health and accident insurance if my community hospital facilities are inadequate, unmodern or if such facilities are not immediately available in time of emergency or need?

Nor is it logical to anticipate economy by going out of town or elsewhere for medical care. In case of illness or emergency, I want the medical facilities immediately available.

The $7 a year total tax increase which the hospital plan will cost me is more than worth it to me.

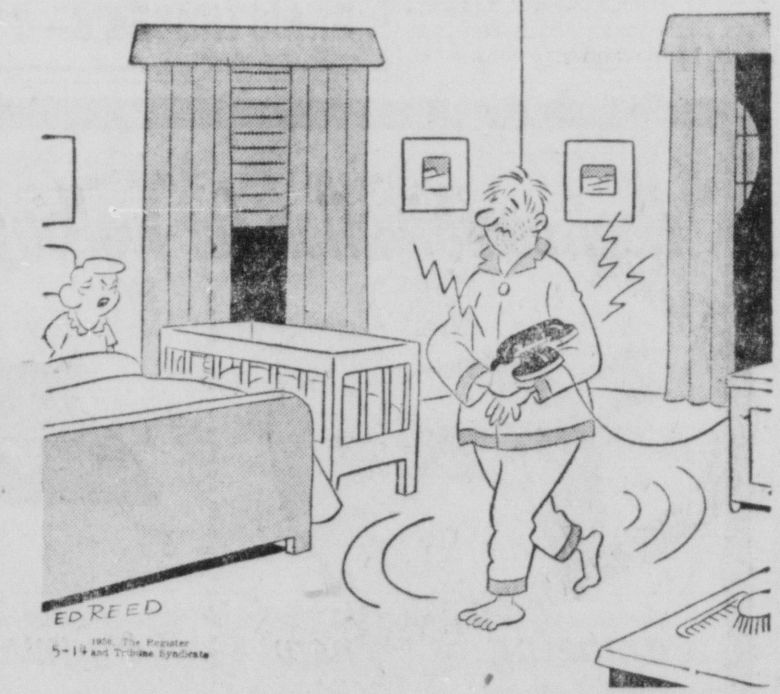

I live in Lincoln because I like it here. Improvement of the community has made my property more valuable. The wage increases I have received from my employer during the past year have more than covered such a tax increase.

(I suggest you see the Tax Board about your increased assessment. I had a similar incident and found them pleasant, understanding and ready to admit a mistake.)

Traffic Death Toll Hits 100 In Nebraska

By The Associated Press
Nebraska's highway death toll for 1956 climbed to 100 Sunday as two more deaths were reported.
A year ago at this time, 104 traffic deaths had occurred in the state.

The victims were August Rohde, 67, of Ansley and Allen W. Miner, 51, of Omaha.

At Railroad Crossing
Rohde died Sunday when the pickup truck he was driving was struck by a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy freight train at a crossing in Ansley.

Investigating state safety patrolmen said the train hit the rear of the pickup truck and Rohde was thrown from the vehicle into the side of the train.

The officers said Rohde was hurled about 81 feet.

It was the second traffic death of the year in Custer County. Rohde is survived by his wife and several children.

Hit Twice
Miner died in Omaha Saturday night when he was hit by two cars while crossing a street.

Police said he was hit first by a car driven by Rex Brewer, 36, of Omaha.

He then was hit by an auto driven by Ervin J. Forste, 58, of Rulo, Neb.

NU Staff Members
To Attend Meetings

Dr. Donald G. Hanway, chairman of the University of Nebraska agronomy department, and Dr. E. F. Frolik, associate director of the Agricultural Experiment Station, will attend a meeting of a regional committee on field and forage crop production in Chicago Tuesday.

Dr. Hanway also will speak on soybean mutation at a genetics and plant breeding symposium at the Brookhaven Laboratory in New York May 21-25.

Curtis Seeks T-H Amendment To Take Care Of 'Loopholes'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Curtis (R-Neb.) said he will introduce in the Senate Monday an amendment to the Taft-Hartley Law "to stop all secondary boycotts and end organizational and recognition picketing."

Curtis said in a statement that while Congress thought it had ended secondary boycotts when it passed the Taft-Hartley Labor-

Management Act in 1947, "enough major loopholes have been found to make the law's secondary boycott prohibitions ineffective."

He defined the secondary boycott as "a weapon used by labor union officials to put pressure on neutral third parties to compel them to assist in forcing workmen to join a union against their will or to help a union win disputes with another employer."

He said it results in "unnecessary and unjustified injury to neutral third parties—whether they be employees, employers or the public."

Curtis said his bill would make it an unfair labor practice for unions to picket work sites to "coerce an employer to force his employees into a union."

"Although coercion violates the principles of free collective bargaining," he said, "this type of organizational picketing is not now prevented."

Holdrege School To Be Reopened

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP) — The board of education has called for sealed bids to be opened June 4 on work for the renovation of the Roosevelt Elementary School building.

What to WATCH for when selecting the most modern truck for your job!

If you're in the market for a new truck, you can start your "shopping tour" right on this page! The salesman shown here is pointing out modern features that increase efficiency on the job and give you more truck for your dollars.

So take a moment to follow him around in this on-paper demonstration. Then you'll know what to look for—and you'll find it right here, at your Chevrolet dealer's!

WATCH for advanced Work Styling

The long, low, forward-sweeping lines of new Chevrolet trucks provide modern truck beauty that's good advertising for your business. Each weight class has its own distinctive styling.

WATCH for Ball-Gear steering

Modern Ball-Gear steering, featured in all Chevrolet Task-Force trucks, makes your job easier at every turn! In this precision steering gear, scores of polished steel balls minimize steering friction.

You'll find modern features everywhere! For example, there are famous Chevrolet high-compression 6's—the world's most popular truck engines! A great new 5-speed transmission, optional at extra cost, handles tough jobs with ease in a wide range of models. New

WATCH for modern cab design

Chevrolet truck cabs offer greater comfort, panoramic windshield for better vision and modern concealed Safety Steps.

WATCH for automatic transmissions

In 3000-4000 Series models there's famous HYDRA-MATIC. And for 5000 through 10000 Series models there's exclusive, revolutionary POWERMATIC! Both are extra-cost options.

WATCH for modern short-stroke V8's

There's a new V8—either standard or optional at extra cost—for every model. They're compact, efficient engines, too—the leaders in their respective classes for horsepower-per-pound!

Triple-Torque tandem options for heavy-duty trucks hike G.V.W.'s up to 32,000 lbs. . . . G.C.W.'s up to 50,000 lbs. Certainly, there are many things that point up Chevrolet truck modernity . . . many reasons why anything less than Chevy is an old-fashioned truck!

To Be Summer Bride

MISS DIANE DeVRIENDT

There will be considerable interest in town and campus circles this morning in the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Willis C. DeVriendt of Atlanta, Ga., formerly of Lincoln, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Diane, to Roger Sack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Sack of York.

A mid-summer wedding is planned. Miss DeVriendt is a senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. Mr. Sack, who will be graduated in June from the University of Nebraska is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

THIS turned out to be a morning devoted to guests from a variety of places — Arkansas, Illinois, Missouri — the Panama Canal Zone — and Colorado — Many of them already are in town — having arrived during the week end — and others will come later this month.

Our guest from Arkansas — Batesville to be specific — is Mrs. V. A. Wilber who arrived on Saturday evening to spend some time as the guest of her granddaughter Mrs. Curtis D. Kimball and Mr. Kimball. Also arriving on Saturday evening to be a house guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kimball is Mrs. Kimball's aunt Mrs. Campbell Weaver of Kansas City, Mo.

MENTION of guests from Kansas City reminds us that Mr. and Mrs. Lee Metcalf came from there to spend the Mother's Day week end with Mrs. Metcalf's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Woods, her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs.

Harold Osborn, and her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Faulkner. AND to continue with the name of Metcalf — Mr. and Mrs. Ted Metcalf of Omaha were in town for the week end — the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watts. And also a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Watts is Mr. Watts' mother, Mrs. Maude R. Watts of La Salle, Colo.

ARRIVING on Friday evening in time for the Mother's Day week end was Mrs. James Good of Wilmette, Ill. who will spend a week as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Foster.

OUR guests for later this month (meaning May 22) are Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKenzie Rummell of the Panama Canal Zone who will spend a brief time in Lincoln as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor Greer.

We are sure that many Lincoln people will remember Mrs. Rummell who is the former Gail McWhorter of Birmingham, Ala., and who has visited in Lincoln several times. In fact Mrs. Rummell was Mrs. Greer's roommate at Wellesley and has been a guest at the home of Mrs. Greer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William I. Aitken.

INCIDENTALLY — we think we should tell you that Miss Penny Greer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor Greer had a birthday recently — She was four years old last Thursday and celebrated the occasion with a morning party.

OF course you know that Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Waugh arrived from Washington D. C. yesterday and that there are numerous courtesies for them during their stay in town — But this morning we have another one to add — On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard Anderson will compliment the visitors when they entertain a small group of guests at a buffet at their home.

AND we were told that Mrs. Waugh is to do a bit of hostessing while she is here — She will entertain at luncheon on Wednesday at the Lincoln Country Club.

BUT before Wednesday comes Tuesday — the day that Mrs. Jack Campbell and Mrs. James Nicola will be morning coffee hostesses at the home of Mrs. Nicola when they pay courtesy to their sister-in-law Mrs. William Campbell — the former Dolores Donarico of Omaha.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

If you really want to give yourself a lift and a new lease on life, we suggest that you move to one of the new residential areas in the city where there always is something for everyone in the way of activity.

Take Cotner Terrace, for instance — We did our usual verbal meandering up one street and down the other and certainly didn't come away empty-handed as far as our favorite commodity—news—was concerned.

Of course there were many Mother's Day festivities and travelers — but among the celebrations was the late afternoon picnic on Sunday planned by Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Winter, Jr. to honor Mr. Winter's mother, Mrs. W. W. Winter, who has just returned home after a nine months stay in California, New Mexico and Colorado. Attending the picnic were Mr. Winter's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Winters and their family; and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Rex D. Mercer and their family.

And last Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Karr and their son, Steven, and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Karr and their daughter, Lori, went to Seward where they were the guests of Dwayne and Darrell Karr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Karr, for a pre-Mother's Day celebration on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Larson and their daughter, Donna, divided the week end between their parents — Mrs. Larson and Donna left a little ahead of time to have a longer visit with Mrs. Larson's mother in Kearney, and were joined there on Saturday by Mr. Larson. Part of the week-end was spent with Mr. Larson's parents in Axtell.

Then we learned that Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hanson had as their guest the past week, Mrs. Hanson's mother, Mrs. F. W. Lipke of Omaha. On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Hanson and their two children, Claudia and Scott, accompanied Mrs. Lipke back to Omaha and went on to spend the Mother's Day week-end with Mr. Hanson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hanson at Irvington. The Hanson festivities on Sunday were two-fold — Not only was it Mother's Day, but it was also a birthday celebration for Mrs. A. W. Hanson whose official anniversary is May 14.

Speaking of birthday celebrations — Norma Jean Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mason will be nine years old next Wednesday — But school and birthday parties don't mix — so Norma Jean had a party on Saturday afternoon at her home. The guest list included Karen Collings, Diana Harrison, Nancy and Richard Bornemeier, Charles and Carolyn Cadwell, Gary Jensen, Paul Moeller, and Bob Parks — But that isn't all — some very special guests at the party were Norma Jean's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Frisell of Holdrege who came to attend the party and to spend Mother's Day week — end with their son-in-law and daughter and of course, their granddaughter.

There were parties in Cotner Terrace on Saturday evening — one of them was a birthday celebration — a dinner for which Mrs. Arthur Wardlow Jr. was hostess at home when she entertained in honor of Mr. Wardlow's birthday anniversary.

The family guest list included Mr. Wardlow's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wardlow, and Mrs. Wardlow's mother, Mrs. Lydia Bucholz.

And when Mr. and Mrs. John Erick entertained on Saturday evening the guest list included the members of their dinner and bridge club — The affair probably was not quite as gay as past meetings have been due to the fact that Saturday night was the last time Mr. and Mrs. Erick will be host and hostess to their club. They leave on May 24 to reside in Enid, Okla.

But on hand for dinner and an evening of bridge were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hubertus, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Liewer and Mr. and Mrs. Al Pohlman.

We hear that Mr. and Mrs. Erick have been kept busy with farewell courtesies which began when their friends learned of the move to Enid. Among the many affairs was the coffee for which Mrs. Wayne Sohl and Mrs. Carl Fisher were hostesses last Wednesday evening when they entertained at the home of Mrs. Sohl.

And on Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Erick will be honored by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Thiel who will be a dinner host and hostess at their home.

On the calendar for next Wednesday is the luncheon for which Mrs. Franklin Johnson will be hostess at her home when she entertains a guest eightsome in farewell courtesy to Mrs. Erick.

Someone told us that Mrs. A. J. Phillipson of Holbrook who had been the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Kopetka, left on Saturday to return to her home. Mrs. Phillipson was accompanied back to Holbrook by her three-year-old grandson, Jimmy who unless he gets too homesick, plans to be away a week.

DANCING IN THE BARN

The Swingem' In Gingham Square Dance Club had a party Friday evening — and what better place to have a barn dance than in an honest-to-goodness barn — The maneuvering for such a barn was comparatively a simple process — Mr. and Mrs. William Speidel Jr. serve as president of the square dance club, and Mr. Speidel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Speidel, have a barn which was cleaned from floor to loft in preparation for the party. In case you are wondering Mr. and Mrs. Speidel reside some two and one-half miles south of Pioneer St. on

To Attend Convention

Leaving the first of the week to attend the annual convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, being held at Kansas City May 14 to 18 were Mrs. Glenn Mooberry, president of the Lincoln Woman's Club, Mrs. H. A. Schoenthal, Mrs. Frank O'Connell, Mrs. Harry Hust, Mrs. C. M. Stewart and Mrs. Porter Putnam.

Garden Club To Entertain

The Friendly Garden Club of Lincoln will meet Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Roscoe Ward, 625 No. 35th, with husbands of the members as special guests. The program will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

MRS. KENNETH GROSEBACH

For the marriage of Miss Barbara Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Gardner to Kenneth Grosebach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Grosebach which was solemnized Sunday afternoon, May 13 tall arrangements of white gladioli and lighted candles in branched candelabra decorated the altar of the American Lutheran Church. The 3 o'clock service was read by the Rev. E. J. Beckman.

Wearing alike frocks of powder blue net over taffeta fashioned in the waltz length were Mrs. Kenneth Jones, matron of honor and the bridesmaids Miss Marilyn Burbach and Miss Merilyn Mehlig. The attendants' heartshaped hats of taffeta and net were in matching blue, and they carried colonial bouquets of white pink and blue tinted carnations frilled with net. Miss Lynette Hiskey was the flower girl and ringbearer was Jimmie Standley. Lighting the candles were Miss Gloria Gardner and Miss Bonnie Gardner.

Gerr Stevens served Mr. Grosebach as best man and the ushers were Wes Anderson and Larry Gardner.

The bride appeared in a gown of white embroidered tulle over satin. Satin applied in a floral motif and dotted with tiny pearls framed the portrait neckline of the molded bodice, and the extremely full skirt ended in a chapel-length train. A heart-shaped trim of embroidered tulle trimmed with pearls held her illusion veil, and she carried a cascade arrangement of red roses and stephanotis.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony, after which the couple left for a wedding trip to Colorado. For traveling, Mrs. Grosebach wore a gray suit with pink and black patent accessories.

Mr. Grosebach a former student at the University of Nebraska and his bride will reside at 2810 So. 14th.

Betrothal Announced

Announcing plans for an early autumn wedding at Miss Sara Ron Lee is a daughter of Louis Dile. The couple are Louis Dile, whose betrothal is being revealed this morning, as the bride elect's parents Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bush.

Miss Bush is a former student of Wesleyan University.

The wedding will be an event of September.

BRIDES

Completing plans for her wedding to Raymond L. Hughes which will be an event of Sunday evening, May 20, is Miss Marilyn June Stein who has announced that the ceremony will be solemnized at 8 o'clock at Grace Methodist Church.

For her matron of honor, Miss Stein has named Mrs. Andrew Flock Jr. and her bridesmaid will be Mrs. Kenneth McKee. The bridesmaids will be Miss Vera Humphreys, Miss Carol Pillard of Malcolm and Miss Janet Stein and lighting the candles preceding the service will be Miss Leona Armstrong. Mrs. William Chastain and Mrs. Neale Walbridge.

Louis Gilmore of Napanoch, N.Y., will serve Mr. Hughes as best man and seating the guests will be William Filpula of Butte, Mont., Kenneth McKee, John Doudney Douglas Scott, Jr., and Neill Stein.

And revealing plans for an early June wedding is Miss Peggy Green, who will become the bride of Dale R. Fredstrom on Saturday, June 9, at Bethany Christian Church.

The bride elect has chosen Miss Beverly Flack as her maid of honor and her bridesmaids will be Miss Janet Cole, Miss Mary Ann Duffy and Miss Doris Eby. Miss Pamela Green will attend her sister as flower girl, and lighting the candles for the 8 o'clock evening ceremony will be Miss Sharon Amen and Miss Joan Brandeberry.

Bridge Club

A duplicate bridge club recently has been organized in Lincoln and has announced plans for regular meetings to be held Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock in the Green Room of the YMCA.

In the near future the club plans to affiliate with the United Contract Bridge League of America.

Serving as best man will be Rodney Erickson and the corps of ushers will include Miss Green's brother, Robert Green, Jr., her fiancé's brother, David Fredstrom, Richard Peterson and Lincoln Elroy Nelson of Oakland and Les Rivers of Seward. Jeffrey M. D. will be the ringbearer.

In pre-nuptial courtesy to a late summer bride to be, Miss Marjorie Speidel a group of 10 friends were the guests Saturday afternoon of Miss Dorothy Maxwell who was hostess at a dessert luncheon at her home. The afternoon hours were spent informally, and a kitchen shower was presented to the honoree.

Miss Speidel will become the bride of Thomas J. Jones at a ceremony to take place on August 11.

PEO Chapter Programs

Mrs. J. R. Tisdale will be hostess to the members of Chapter DM, PEO, at her home, 2528 C next Saturday afternoon. Hostesses for the 12:30 o'clock "birthday" luncheon will be Mrs. Roscoe Hill, Mrs. V. E. Stahl and Mrs. E. H. Schroeder.

The program will feature a talk and demonstration on flower arrangement by Mrs. Frank Dutton.

The anniversary dinner of Chapter DL, PEO, will be held Monday evening at the University Club where the members will meet at 6 o'clock.

The program will be under the direction of Mrs. Esther Hagan, and hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Harvey Swenson, Mrs. Chaucey Barnev, Mrs. T. C. O'Donnell and Mrs. C. G. Wilkins.

Garden Club To Entertain

The Friendly Garden Club of Lincoln will meet Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Roscoe Ward, 625 No. 35th, with husbands of the members as special guests. The program will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

DANCING IN THE BARN

The Swingem' In Gingham Square Dance Club had a party Friday evening — and what better place to have a barn dance than in an honest-to-goodness barn—The maneuvering for such a barn was comparatively a simple process—Mr. and Mrs. William Speidel, Jr., serve as president of the square dance club, and Mr. Speidel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Speidel, have a barn which was cleaned from floor to loft in preparation for the party. In case you are wondering, Mr. and Mrs. Speidel reside some two and one-half miles south of Pioneer St. on South Fortieth.

Anyway, a good time was had by all, and our photographer arrived just in time to catch a square, composed of the officers, cutting some fancy capers. In the foreground, left to right, are Mrs. Kenneth McCartney,

We are sure that many Lincoln people will remember Mrs. Rummell who is the former Gail McWhorter of Birmingham, Ala., and who has visited in Lincoln several times — In fact Mrs. Rummell was Mrs. Greer's roommate at Wellesley and has been a guest at the home of Mrs. Greer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William I. Aitken.

INCIDENTALLY — we think we should tell you that Miss Penny Greer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor Greer, had a birthday recently — She was four years old last Thursday and celebrated the occasion with a morning party.

OF course you know that Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Waugh arrived from Washington, D. C., yesterday, and that there are numerous courtesies for them during their stay in town — But this morning we have another one to add — On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard Anderson will compliment the visitors when they entertain a small group of guests at a buffet at their home.

AND we were told that Mrs. Waugh is to do a bit of hosting while she is here — She will entertain at luncheon on Wednesday at the Lincoln Country Club.

BUT before Wednesday comes Tuesday — the day that Mrs. Jack Campbell and Mrs. James Nicola will be morning coffee hostesses at the home of Mrs. Nicola, when they pay courtesy to their sister-in-law, Mrs. William Campbell — the former Dolores Donarico of Omaha.

MRS. KENNETH GROSEBACH

For the marriage of Miss Barbara Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Gardner, to Kenneth Grosebach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Grosebach, which was solemnized Sunday afternoon, May 13, tall arrangements of white gladioli and lighted candles in branched candelabra decorated the altar of the American Lutheran Church. The 3 o'clock service was read by the Rev. E. J. Beckman.

Wearing alike frocks of powder blue net over taffeta fashioned in the waltz length were Mrs. Kenneth Jones, matron of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Marilyn Burbach and Miss Meryllyn Mehlig. The attendants' heart-shaped hats of taffeta and net were in matching blue, and they carried colonial bouquets of white, pink and blue-tinted carnations frilled with net. Miss Lynette Hiskey was the flower girl, and ringbearer was Jimmie Standley. Lighting the candles were Miss Gloria Gardner and Miss Bonnie Gardner.

Glenn Stevens served Mr. Grosebach as best man, and the ushers were Wes Anderson and Larry Gardner.

The bride appeared in a gown of white embroidered tulle over satin. Satin applied in a floral motif and dotted with tiny pearls framed the portrait neckline of the molded bodice, and the extremely full skirt ended in a chapel-length train. A heart-shaped brim of embroidered tulle trimmed with pearls held her illusion veil, and she carried a cascade arrangement of red roses and stephanotis.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony, after which the couple left for a wedding trip to Colorado. For traveling, Mrs. Grosebach wore a gray suit with pink and black patent accessories.

Mr. Grosebach, a former student at the University of Nebraska, and his bride will reside at 2810 So. 14th.

Mr. McCartney, Square Dance Council representatives; Mrs. Mel Badberg and Mr. Badberg, secretary; Mr. and Mrs. William Speidel, president. The couple on the far side of the square are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hudson.

Betrothal Announced

Announcing plans for an early autumn wedding are Miss Sharon Lee Bush and her fiancé, Louis Dale Thompson of St. Louis, Mo., whose betrothal is being revealed this morning by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bush.

Miss Bush is a former student at Nebraska Wesleyan University where she is a member of Delta Zeta sorority.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis R. Thompson of St. Louis, Mr. Thompson is attending Nebraska Wesleyan University.

The wedding will be an event of September.

BRIDES

Completing plans for her wedding to Raymond L. Hughes which will be an event of Sunday evening, May 20, is Miss Marilyn June Stein, who has announced that the ceremony will be solemnized at 8 o'clock, at Grace Methodist Church.

For her matron of honor, Miss Stein has named Mrs. Andrew Flock, Jr., and her bridesmatron will be Mrs. Kenneth McKee. The bridesmaids will be Miss Vera Humphreys, Miss Carol Pillard of Malcolm and Miss Janet Stein, and lighting the candles preceding the service will be Miss Leona Armstrong, Mrs. William Chastain and Mrs. Neale Walbridge.

Louis Gilmore of Napanoch, N.Y., will serve Mr. Hughes as best man, and seating the guests will be William Filpula of Butte, Mont., Kenneth McKee, John Doudney, Douglas Scott, Jr., and Neill Stein.

And revealing plans for an early June wedding is Miss Peggy Green, who will become the bride of Dale R. Fredstrom on Saturday, June 9, at Bethany Christian Church.

The bride-elect has chosen Miss Beverly Flack as her maid of honor, and her bridesmaids will be Miss Janet Cole, Miss Mary Ann Duffy and Miss Doris Eby. Miss Pamela Green will attend her sister as flower girl, and lighting the candles for the 8 o'clock evening ceremony will be Miss Sharon Amen and Miss Joan Brandeberry.

Bridge Club

A duplicate bridge club recently has been organized in Lincoln and has announced plans for regular meetings to be held Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock in the Green Room of the YMCA.

In the near future, the club plans to affiliate with the United Contract Bridge League of America.

PEO Chapter Programs

Mrs. J. R. Tisdale will be hostess to the members of Chapter DM, PEO, at her home, 2523 C. next Saturday afternoon. Hostesses for the 12:30 o'clock "birthday" luncheon will be Mrs. Roscoe Hill, Mrs. V. E. Stahl and Mrs. E. H. Schroeder.

The program will feature a talk and demonstration on flower arrangement by Mrs. Frank Dutton.

The anniversary dinner of Chapter DL, PEO, will be held Monday evening at the University Club where the members will meet at 6 o'clock.

The program will be under the direction of Mrs. Esther Hagan, and hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Harvey Swenson, Mrs. Chaucery Barney, Mrs. T. C. O'Donnell and Mrs. C. G. Wilkins.

NAVY TAKES WRAPS OFF A-SUB

By C. YATES MCDANIEL

ON BOARD THE U.S.S. NAUTILUS—The submarine Nautilus emerged from the secret depths of the Atlantic Sunday and steamed proudly into New York Harbor to give the world a look at the capital ship of the future atomic fleet.

The first fighting child of the atomic revolution had traveled more than 36,000 miles before she entered the Hudson River. But this was the first cruise that ended, by deliberate design of the Navy, where tens of thousands could see nuclear power in motion.

New York took its cue with glee. Police helicopters whirled over in welcoming escort as the world's only known atom powered vessel steered a course between motor boats, excursion craft and ferry boats toward the George Washington Bridge.

Harbor fire boats spurted jets of water into the air in their traditional welcome for a new ship.

Press Gets Ride
And this is a new thing in naval power, speed and fighting potential as 12 reporters and photographers found out during a 24-hour cruise that started at Groton, Conn.

The newsmen first private citizens ever permitted below decks were shown all the paces that have convinced the Navy that the Nautilus is the deadliest weapon afloat.

So secret are many items within her 300-foot long hull that every one of her 100-man crew, down to the lowest seaman, must have a top ranking "Q" clearance from the Atomic Energy Commission.

Saw It All
Yet the reporters were guided from stern to stern, from within arm's length of the silent, uranium fueled furnace which generates power for every action on board to the death dealing torpedo room.

With this reporter at the central diving control for a brief period, the Nautilus went deeper than he ever expected to go, and then climbed up again with a speed and zoom that recalled a ride on a carnival roller coaster.

As the 3,000-ton Nautilus cast off from her pier at Groton Rear Adm. Frank T. Watkins, Commander of Atlantic Fleet Submarines, announced.

"From now on, everything is on atomic power."

Independent
"Nautilus is independent of the earth's atmosphere," declared Rear Adm. H. C. Rickover, the atomic age zealot who directed the design and construction of the submarine.

"She was made to dive," said Cdr. E. P. Wilkinson, skipper of the Nautilus since she was commissioned in September, 1954.

And when deep water was reached, 20 miles south of Block Island, the warning order, "Dive, Dive," blared over loudspeakers, and down went the submarine. How deep? Military security says only that it was "more than 300 feet."

Once down, the steel chambered Nautilus really hit her stride with speeds of more than 20 knots sustained for hours. No conventional submarine can travel this fast underwater for more than a few minutes.

Not Fear, Awe
There was no fear, only a feeling of awe among those standing near the atomic reactor heart of the Nautilus. The same few pounds of uranium fuel that started up the reactor 17 months ago are still powerfully alive, and Rickover said the fuel still had a "considerable" useful life to run.

In this secret place the uninitiated saw much, but knew that only an expert would understand the meaning of the hundreds of buttons, knobs and strange gadgets that lined the bulkheads and peeked out from a labyrinth of tubes and machinery.

No space is wasted in the Nautilus, but her officers and men alike called her the most comfortable submarine ever built.

In the galley, cooks were preparing the evening meal—the

VA Hospital Ceremony Marks Anniversary

"Our Veterans Hospital belongs to the State of Nebraska, the city and the county," John Curtis, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Veterans Hospital committee, said at rededication services Sunday marking the silver anniversary of the opening of the Lincoln Veterans Hospital.

Curtis told a crowd of several hundred persons assembled in front of the main building that "The community is proud of this splendid edifice dedicated to healing and of the persons responsible for its operation."

"As long as one veteran remains in Nebraska we hope this will remain a Veterans Hospital," he added.

Gov. Victor Anderson expressed the hope in his address that "with everyone working together we can keep this hospital a Veterans Hospital."

Ray Ramsay represented Mayor Clerk Jeary Ramsay said he hoped to be present at the hospital's Golden Anniversary, adding that "The Veterans Hospital is indeed an asset to this community."

Honored guests at the rededication included 16 employees who have been on the staff since the hospital was opened and two volunteer workers, Mrs. Genie McGlasson and Nate Grossman, who have also served the hospital since its opening.

Also on the program were Stanley Hoffman, state commander of the American Legion Jack Head, state commander of the Disabled American Veterans, and same for admirals and seamen—rib steak, green salad, pineapple upside-down cake.

Torpedo firing practice in the forward compartment gave emphasis to the repeated statements by the two admirals on board that the Nautilus is no "trick," no "showboat," but a fighting ship. And there are 15 more atomic powered attack submarines coming along.

When someone's counting on you . . . you can count on life insurance

What are your plans for retirement? Will it be a time to enjoy the trips you always seem to be postponing? Hours to spend with your favorite hobbies? Or perhaps the fun of developing a small business of your own?

Whatever your hopes, they require planning ahead for your financial needs when you retire. This is where your present life insurance may help . . . because most policies offer two forms of protection. First, they protect your family now. Then, when your youngsters are grown, these same policies can add to your own income at retirement.

Last year more than half of all life insurance benefits were paid to policyholders themselves . . . including many millions of dollars as monthly income for retired men and women.

This is one of the reasons why you can count on life insurance . . . and why it is America's most widely used form of thrift.

You may be able to arrange your present life insurance to provide a regular income when you retire. The best person to show you how this may be done is your own life insurance agent.

You will also find helpful suggestions in the new booklet, Your Life Insurance—and How to Use It. Your free copy will be mailed promptly; simply send your name and address on a postcard to Dept. L.

When someone's counting on you . . . you can count on life insurance

What are your plans for retirement? Will it be a time to enjoy the trips you always seem to be postponing? Hours to spend with your favorite hobbies? Or perhaps the fun of developing a small business of your own?

Whatever your hopes, they require planning ahead for your financial needs when you retire. This is where your present life insurance may help . . . because most policies offer two forms of protection. First, they protect your family now. Then, when your youngsters are grown, these same policies can add to your own income at retirement.

Last year more than half of all life insurance benefits were paid to policyholders themselves . . . including many millions of dollars as monthly income for retired men and women.

This is one of the reasons why you can count on life insurance . . . and why it is America's most widely used form of thrift.

You may be able to arrange your present life insurance to provide a regular income when you retire. The best person to show you how this may be done is your own life insurance agent.

You will also find helpful suggestions in the new booklet, Your Life Insurance—and How to Use It. Your free copy will be mailed promptly; simply send your name and address on a postcard to Dept. L.

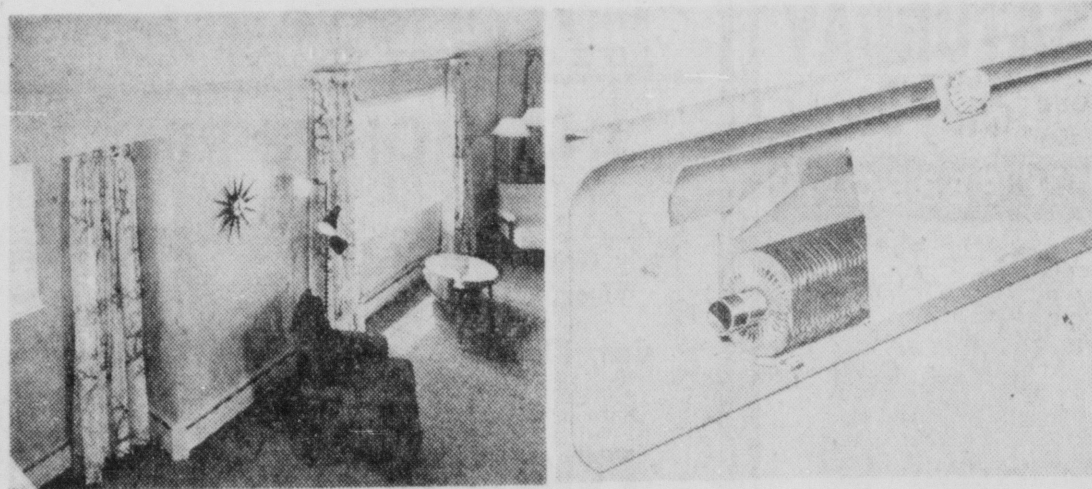

Yours free!

Eden Gets '3rd Degree' Today On Missing Frogman

... LABOR FORCES ISSUE

By EDDIE GILMORE
LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden faces a searching third degree in Parliament Monday night in the strange case of the missing frogman, who apparently lost his life spying on Soviet warships in British waters.

Laborites will try to force Eden to say who ordered retired naval diver Lionel Crabb to spy out the underbelly of the cruiser Ordzhonikidze—the ship that brought Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev to Britain.

But the quizzing won't stop there for the questions are piling up in this international mystery that has all the trappings of a first-rate melodrama.

The Questions
Why was this hush-hush mission undertaken beneath the murky waters of Portsmouth Harbor? Why does the British government presume that Crabb, an eccentric, but hero of dozens of daring exploits, is dead?

And if he did perish in some strange way beneath the Soviet ships—where's the body?

Eden's questioners would like the answers to these and a score of rumors about the whole fantastic underwater drama. But only two hours have been set aside for the subject in the House of Commons.

Eden will be pressed to take up the story where it officially ends in the British reply to Russia's diplomatic request for an explanation of what a frogman was doing beneath her warships anchored in English waters.

Explanation Terse
The terse explanation is that his actions were completely unauthorized; he is presumed to have met his death there; it's not in the public interest to say more.

British politicians say it's doubtful if the Prime Minister will be willing—even if he could—to fill in the missing gaps that are causing all sorts of speculation and considerable embarrassment to his government.

They say by keeping silent and taking the rap, Eden will be putting patriotism above politics, for some branch of Britain's secret service apparently is involved right up to its best cloak and dagger.

But Eden could break the case wide open. The possibility—though faint—of his doing this whets the national interest in the Commons debate.

Real Puzzle
On the eve of Eden's appearance in Parliament a broader but no less puzzling picture of the vanished frogman is taking shape.

It is best presented in the chronological order of development.

The night before he disappeared Crabb wrote a letter to his aged mother in Oxfordshire.

"I'm going on a job," he said, "but it's a simple mission. You are not to worry. I'll be back in about two days time. Please tear this letter up."

Crabb wrote that letter from the Sullyport Hotel in the naval town of Plymouth where he and a "Mr. Smith" registered on April 17.

"Smith" has never been identified.

Then things began to happen: April 18 — The Ordzhonikidze and escorting vessels arrive. Crabb leaves the hotel before dawn and returns late in the evening.

April 19—Crabb leaves the hotel early again. "Mr. Smith" pays the hotel bill for both himself and Crabb and leaves. At 7:30 a.m. the same day Soviet sailors see a frogman emerge between their ships.

April 20—Soviet Rear Adm. V. F. Kotov raises the issue of the mysterious frogman with British Rear Adm. P. W. Burnett who says he knows nothing about the frogman.

April 21—Detective Supt. Stanley Lamport removes four pages from the hotel register of the Sullyport Hotel. Those pages contain the registration of Crabb and "Mr. Smith."

April 27—Bulganin and Khrushchev leave Britain aboard the cruiser.

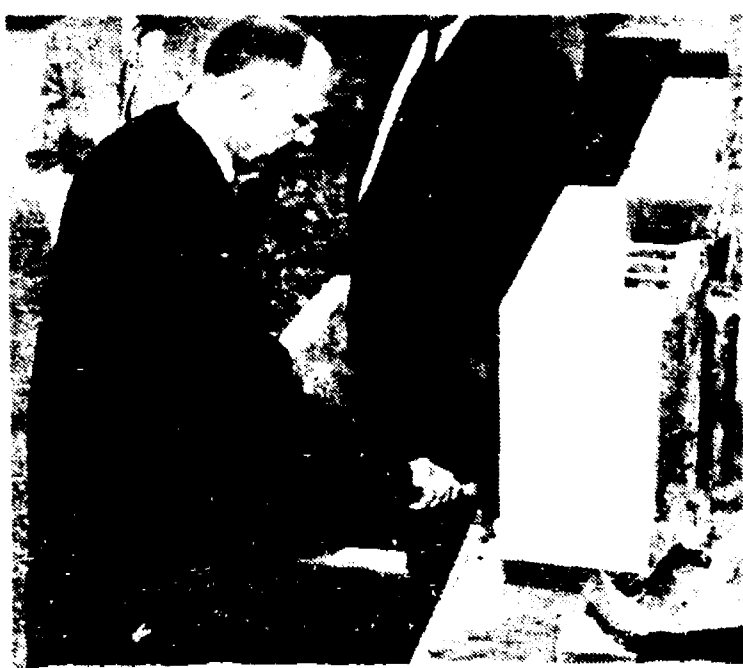

April 29—The British Admiralty announces that Crabb is presumed dead and that it's nine days since he lost his life—but the Admiralty gives no details. No death certificate has been issued for Crabb.

May 4—Russia asks Britain for an explanation of the frogman.

May 9—Britain replies to the Soviets, but Eden makes no reference to the reply in this brief statement about the case to the House of Commons.

May 11 — Moscow radio announced the contents of the Soviet note and the British reply. This was the first public mention that notes had been exchanged.

May 13—Rear Adm. Kotov in Moscow told the newspaper Pravda that he doubted the British government's explanation that frogman Crabb dived under his ship without authorization.

Eastridge Presbyterian Cornerstone Laid

The Rev. H. Calvin Kerk of Tecumseh, moderator of the Nebraska City Presbyterian, is pictured laying the cornerstone of the new Eastridge Presbyterian Church, the first new church of that denomination to be organized in Lincoln in 50 years. The Rev. Thomas Huxtable is pastor, George Wood is chairman of the building committee for the $75,000 structure at 30th and Marquette Drive. The sanctuary of the brick structure will seat 270 persons and the Rev. Mr. Huxtable said the building should be completed by Sept. 1. Nearly 100 persons attended the ceremonies. (Star Photo.)

NU Vacation Session Expects 300 Grade, High Schoolers

Summer is synonymous with play for most youngsters but for more than 300 Lincoln children it means school days as well.

Approximately this number ranging from nursery school youngsters to high school seniors will be attending classes at University High School and Bancroft Elementary School.

These classes have a two-fold purpose. They give youngsters an opportunity to put their leisure time to a wise use and they provide a laboratory for Teachers.

STANTON DELAPLANE

POSTCARD

The decorator comes tomorrow. And I hardly know what to tell him.

My home is in a constant state of decoration. Chairs are at a premium. For mostly my chairs are out being recovered. Furniture is as constantly on the move as a wheat harvest bum. Pictures hang, disappear, reappear in other rooms. Throw rugs are replaced by wall - to - wall carpeting.

Just about the time I am sure-footed again, the throw rugs are back. And we are skidding from one to the other, like Luna crossing the ice.

It keeps a man agile and active. I will say that.

Now what do I read in magazines but decorating is very difficult on ladies. It upsets their mental equilibrium and gets them all jittery inside.

"Decorating a home puts a woman under tremendous psychic pressure," says the doctor-writer in the magazine. "And in doing so, brings to the surface her underlying weaknesses."

He then goes on to prove his point. And if you could read what he says about ladies who have a lot of clocks in the house, you would be surprised. Surprised and interested.

All sorts of things go on when a lady decorates a house. It is not just a question of shoving the couch into the center of the room and putting in a couple of end tables with lamps.

The lady is not really decorating. She is solving her inside problems.

The medic tells of a lady with bowlegs. Naturally she felt badly about this, bowlegs being out of style for ladies. Though very good on cowboys.

The lady started out by decorating the front room with bow-legged chairs. The brocade kind named after one of the French Louis kings. The ones you sit down on and everybody screams: "Don't tilt it!"

Well, the lady was uncomfortable. (Though why I don't know, since they matched her own legs.) So then she got straight spindly legged chairs. (The kind you sit on and the hostess grinds her teeth and says, "Don't you think you'd be more comfortable on the couch?")

This did not work either. And the now-legged lady felt all out of kilter.

Finally she got big blocky chairs with no legs at all! Then she felt simply grand.

Personally, this sounds like a terrible way to live. And if ladies must struggle with the furniture in direct ratio to their soul struggles, it is obvious we are going to have a pretty untidy living room.

When the lady is exhausted from the psychic hammerlock, she calls in the doctor. The decorator.

Thus, says the doctor-writer, is a big mistake.

The decorator has his own problems. Instead of one catch-all-catch-can psyche in the home, you now have two.

Pretty soon everybody is screaming at each other.

Who takes the final fall? The ever-loving breadwinner who spends his Sundays pushing the furniture back and forth. Trying to find a spot where it fits Madame's tender trauma.

Nevertheless, the decorating man cometh. Come the bright tomorrow morning. And I do not know whether to let the serpent in. Or shotgun him off the property.

It is hard to argue this proposition. Since all the ladies I know in my neighborhood are up to the Plimsoll mark in swatches and wallpaper and decorators. It is an accepted form of life. And if you suggested to all these delicate primroses they should quit moving furniture and mend their ways, you are a boor.

And though this visit is advertised as a mere installation of a coffee table, I know better. It will wind up with the TV moved so you have to crack your neck to look at it. The reading light will be gone from my reading chair. And replaced by an ottoman. ("Don't put the ash tray on it. You might burn it!")

It will be about as comfortable as a box car. But our souls will be at peace.

On the eve of Eden's appearance in Parliament a broader but no less puzzling picture of the vanished frogman is taking shape. It is best presented in the chronological order of development.

The night before he disappeared Crabb wrote a letter to his aged mother in Oxfordshire.

"I'm going on a job," he said, "but it's a simple mission. You are not to worry. I'll be back in about two days time. Please tear this letter up."

Crabb wrote that letter from the Sullyport Hotel in the naval town of Plymouth where he and a "Mr. Smith" registered on April 17. "Smith" has never been identified.

Then things began to happen: April 18—The Ordzhonikidze and escorting vessels arrive. Crabb leaves the hotel before dawn and returns late in the evening.

April 19—Crabb leaves the hotel early again. "Mr. Smith" pays the hotel bill for both himself and Crabb and leaves. At 7:30 a.m. the same day Soviet sailors see a frogman emerge between their ships.

April 20—Soviet Rear Adm. V. F. Kotov raises the issue of the mysterious frogman with British Rear Adm. P. W. Burnett who says he knows nothing about the frogman.

April 21—Detective Supt. Stanley Lampert removes four pages from the hotel register of the Sullyport Hotel. Those pages contain the registration of Crabb and "Mr. Smith."

April 27—Bulganin and Khrushchev leave Britain aboard the cruiser.

April 29—The British Admiralty announces that Crabb is presumed

Eastridge Presbyterian Cornerstone Laid

The Rev. H. Calvin Knock of Tecumseh, moderator of the Nebraska City Presbytery, is pictured laying mortar for the cornerstone of Eastridge Presbyterian Church, the first new church of that denomination to be organized in Lincoln in 50 years. The Rev. Thomas Huxtable is pastor. George Wood is chairman of the building committee for the $97,000 structure at 56th and Margo Drive. The sanctuary of the brick structure will seat 270 persons and The Rev. Mr. Huxtable said the building should be completed by Sept. 1. Nearly 100 persons attended the ceremonies. (Star Photo.)

NU Vacation Session Expects 300 Grade, High Schoolers

Summer is synonymous with play for most youngsters but for more than 300 Lincoln children it means school days as well.

Approximately this number ranging from nursery school youngsters to high school seniors will be attending classes at University High School and Bancroft Elementary School.

These classes have a two-fold purpose. They give youngsters an opportunity to put their leisure time to a wise use and they provide a laboratory for Teachers College students attending the University Summer Session.

The classes from nursery school on up will be held in the mornings only. The course for high school and junior high schoolers will last eight weeks while the elementary school will be conducted for six weeks.

Dr. Madison Brewer, chairman of the department of elementary education, pointed out that the grade school program will cover materials which are different from those which the children will study next year or are studying this year. He stressed that the summer program is not a remedial course.

Special Courses

Many special courses have been planned for these children. Fifth and sixth grade students will be studying typing. French will be taught the third and fourth graders while second graders will study Spanish.

The arts and crafts will be emphasized at all the grade school levels including the nursery school class.

Although most children eagerly await the end of the regular school year, many come back to Bancroft summer after summer, Dr. Brewer said.

Dr. Norman Thorpe, principal of University High School, said there are several reasons for high school students enrolling during the summer.

Reasons Vary

Some come to make-up high school work or to take required courses that may conflict with an activity in their own school. Many have parents attending the summer session. And there are a few who come to take courses to accelerate the date of their graduation.

A special feature of this summer's program will be developmental reading courses for both junior high and high school. These will be individualized laboratory courses correlated with a special teacher training course offered to the college students.

Another new program will be the industrial arts class for both boys and girls. Here they will learn wood working, metalworking, plumbing, simple upholstery, electricity and other details for the maintenance, adjustment and repair of items about the house.

There will be regular classes in science, history, English, mathematics, modern problems and commercial arts.

Read How New Keotane* Formula
In Skelly Supreme Gasoline Gives You

6.1¢ Extra Value Per Gallon At No Extra Cost Per Gallon

HERE'S THE FIRST SIGN YOU'LL NOTICE THAT NEW KEOTANE* FORMULA IN SKELLY SUPREME GASOLINE IS DISSOLVING GLUE-LIKE GUM TO BOOST YOUR POWER AND MILEAGE:

A gum-clogged carburetor may be "starving" your engine. Gum can cause rough idling, choking, stalling, and improper functioning of your automatic choke. Cars used in "stop-go" driving are most likely to have gummed up carburetors. Usual remedy is a costly carburetor overhaul to remove gum.

When Keotane dissolves carburetor gum, the first effect you are likely to notice is slightly faster idling, caused by freer flow of gasoline. Later, as Keotane dissolves gum at most vital carburetor points, you may want to have your carburetor adjusted to take advantage of its improved efficiency.

6.1¢ makes other premium gasoline expensive to use;
6.1¢ makes any regular gasoline expensive to use;
6.1¢ makes any "cut-rate" gasoline expensive to use:

Now Skelly Supreme Gasoline does for your engine what no other gasoline can do. As other gasolines burn, they build up power-stealing carbon and lead deposits in your engine. And the more you drive, the more these deposits increase and the more troublesome they become.

But Skelly Supreme Gasoline now reduces carbon and lead deposits left by other gasolines. And the more you drive, the more your engine benefits from Skelly Supreme.

The Secret Is Keotane

Keotane is a type of gum-removing formula petroleum engineers have sought for years. The action of Keotane is so different from any previously known gasoline formulation that Skelly has filed patent application for its use.

Gum Is Like A Glue

Gum is the "glue" that holds carbon and lead in combustion chambers. Others have attempted to neutralize the effects of carbon and lead deposits, but Skelly actually reduces them with Keotane, by dissolving the glue-like gum that holds these deposits. And without gum to stick to, carbon and lead go out the exhaust.

Tests Prove Keotane Benefits:

In actual dynamometer tests, engines run on Skelly Supreme Gasoline with Keotane were compared against engines run on the same fuel without Keotane. Based on Southwest Research Institute data, engines that used Skelly Supreme with Keotane averaged:

12.7% gain in mileage.

The performance effect of 3 more octane points.

14.6% more h. p. output.

These and other benefits of new Keotane formula add up to over 6¢ extra value per gallon.

So next time you need gasoline, drive into your nearby Skelly station. Ask for illustrated folder on Keotane. Tell your friendly Skellyman to "fill 'er up" with Skelly Supreme with Keotane—the premium gasoline that makes all other gasolines expensive to use!

Estimated Extra Value Per Gallon To You, Of Skelly Supreme Gasoline With Keotane:

(Based on average current premium gasoline prices in the Midwest)

12.7% average gain in mileage . . . . . 3.8¢

3 octane points extra performance effect . . . . . 1.0¢

14.6% more horsepower output (h.p. saved or added) . . . . . .8¢

Less gum and cleaner carburetors, faster starts with fewer sputters, longer life for batteries . . . . . .5¢

Estimated extra value per gallon to you . 6.1¢

The extra values shown above are conservative estimates by our engineers. These extra values are not figured against inferior premium gasolines or regular grade gasolines, but against Skelly Supreme Gasoline, the best top-octane premium gasoline previously made.

Only Skelly Supreme Gasoline

New the Skelly Supreme POWER PAIR
IS EVEN MORE POWERFUL!

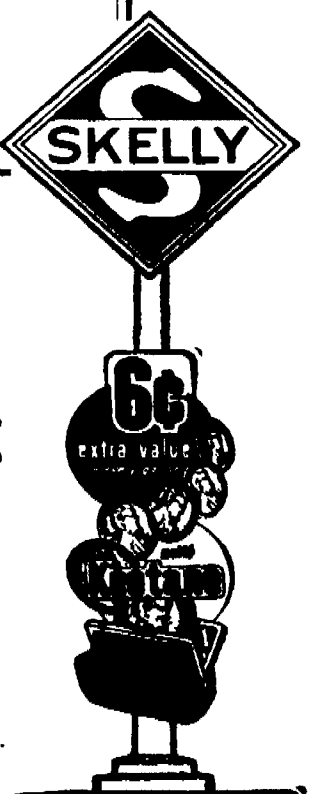

In all tests, only Skelly Supreme Motor Oil was used. Team up Skelly Supreme Motor Oil and Skelly Supreme Gasoline with Keotane formula. This famous Power Pair is guaranteed to give you more power—and more miles—per dollar than any other combination of premium gasoline and motor oil.

Military Helping Remodel Race Relations—Columbia U Study

NEW YORK (AP)—A Columbia University study released Sunday reports that integration as now being practiced in military service "will provide a dynamic force for remodeling race relations throughout the nation, particularly in the South."

The 144-page book, titled "The Negro Potential," was published by the Conservation of Human Resources Project, established by President Eisenhower in 1950 when he was president of Columbia.

Authors of the new study are Dr. Eli Ginzberg, project director, James K. Anderson, Dr. Douglas W. Bray and Robert W. Smuts. They wrote:

Pilot Experiment
The armed services will continue to represent a pilot experiment in integration which will show there is a practical alternative to segregation."

Ginzberg was asked at a news conference about a recent statement of Gen. Mark Clark that the all-Negro 92nd Division in Italy during World War II was "the worst division" in the Italian theater.

Clark, former United Nations commander in the Far East, now is president of The Citadel, South Carolina military college.

Ginzberg cited the report as saying:

"If the combat record of the Negro in World War II were appraised solely in terms of the 92nd (and 88th) divisions, a judgment of unsatisfactory record would be necessary."

The report adds:

War Record
"Segregation affected the performance of Negro troops in three major ways. First, assigning men according to color rather than aptitude made it impossible to provide large Negro units with the necessary balance of men with varying aptitudes and skills."

"Secondly, the Army had difficulty in developing and assigning the number of capable officers required to get the most out of the Negro units."

Finally, segregation reduced the opportunities and the motivation of many Negro soldiers."

In the Korean War, where Negroes served in integrated squads, the report said "the over-all evidence is clear, when given a chance to fight as a member of a balanced unit with competent leadership, the Negro performed satisfactorily."

Concerning education, the study says:

Less Schooling
"Since the Negro goes to school for fewer years than do whites, he receives far less preparation for life and work. What schooling he does receive is of inferior quality and therefore has less value than the schooling received by whites."

Significant improvement in Negro education, the book says, "will probably have to wait for progress in integration. This was surely a major concern of the Supreme Court when it handed down the epoch-making decision to end segregation in public education."

On the subject of federal anti-discrimination legislation, the study said:

Useless Conflict
"Southern members of Congress may be able to defeat legislation favored by the majority people... solely on grounds of their impact on segregation. Such action can lead to no more than useless conflict and delay."

The report continues:
"Only when Negro and white families can live together as neighbors, when Negro children and white children can play together, when Negroes are properly prepared for his place in the world of work."

The project is described as a cooperative in research involving Columbia University and other groups supported by contributions from a number of major business and industrial firms.

Military Helping Remodel Race Relations—Columbia U Study

NEW YORK (AP)—A Columbia University study released Sunday reports that integration as now being practiced in military service "will provide a dynamic force for remodeling race relations throughout the nation, particularly in the South."

The 144-page book, titled "The Negro Potential," was published by the Conservation of Human Resources Project, established by President Eisenhower in 1950 when he was president of Columbia.

Authors of the new study are Dr. Eli Ginzberg, project director, James K. Anderson, Dr. Douglas W. Bray and Robert W. Smuts. They wrote:

Pilot Experiment

"The armed services will continue to represent a pilot experiment in integration which will show there is a practical alternative to segregation."

Ginzberg was asked at a news conference about a recent statement of Gen. Mark Clark that the all-Negro 92nd Division in Italy during World War II was "the worst division" in the Italian theater.

Clark, former United Nations commander in the Far East, now is president of The Citadel, South Carolina military college.

Ginzberg cited the report as saying:

"If the combat record of the Negro in World War II were appraised solely in terms of the 92nd (and 88th) divisions, a judgment of unsatisfactory would be necessary."

The report adds:

War Record

"Segregation affected the performance of Negro troops in three major ways. First, assigning men according to color rather than aptitude made it impossible to provide large Negro units with the necessary balance of men with varying aptitudes and skills."

"Secondly, the Army had difficulty in developing and assigning the number of capable officers required to get the most out of the Negro units."

"Finally, segregation reduced the opportunities and the motivation of many Negro soldiers."

In the Korean War, where Negroes served in integrated squads, the report said "the over-all evidence is clear, when given a chance to fight as a member of a balanced unit with competent leadership, the Negro performed satisfactorily."

Concerning education, the study says:

Less Schooling

"Since the Negro goes to school for fewer years than do whites, he receives far less preparation for life and work. What schooling he does receive is of inferior quality and therefore has less value than the schooling received by whites."

Significant improvement in Negro education, the book says, "will probably have to wait for progress in integration. This was surely a major concern of the Supreme Court when it handed down its epoch-making decision to end segregation in public education."

On the subject of federal antidiscrimination legislation, the study said:

Useless Conflict

"Southern members of Congress may be able to defeat legislation favored by the majority people . . . solely on grounds of their impact on segregation. Such action can lead to no more than useless conflict and delay."

The report continues:

"Only when Negro and white families can live together as neighbors, when Negro children and white children can play together, when Negroes go to school for his place in the world of work."

The project is described as a cooperative in research involving Columbia University and other groups supported by contributions from a number of major business and industrial firms.

Insurance Tax Brings State Extra Funds

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

The 2 per cent tax on all kinds of insurance brought into the budget $250,000 more than was ever collected before, Ralph Hill, state treasurer, reported. Total tax is $3,120,701.

Half of the tax goes into the state general fund and half to the counties on a population basis. The share of the counties is divided with 10 per cent to the general fund, 60 per cent to the schools on an average attendance basis and 30 per cent to the general fund of cities in the counties.

The tax has been collected since 1950. Hill said that the credit to the state general fund is $1,560,350. Distribution to counties he reported is as follows:

Nehru Is Hope Of India, NWU Visitor Says

The popular Congress Party under the devoted leadership of Prime Minister Nehru, is the greatest single hope for the country of India, a distinguished Indian visitor visiting the Nebraska Wesleyan University campus believes.

"Four, five or even more five-year plans will be necessary before a satisfactory standard of living for India is achieved," the Rev. Mangal Singh said.

"But the Congress Party is devoted to achievement of this objective and the people of India have overwhelming confidence in the leadership of the party."

The Rev. Mr. Singh is one of a large delegation of Indian churchmen in this country for the great law-making quadrennial conference of all Methodism. Emphasis on Indian representation in the conference was stimulated this year by the centennial observance of Methodism in that country.

Contrary to some opinion in this country, Communism is making slight headway in India, the Rev. Mr. Singh believes.

"It is my complete belief that the mass of Indian nationalists will never accept Communism because of the absence of a deity," he asserted.

He believes also that the technical assistance given his country under the Point Four Program has been a tremendous factor in Indian growth.

"The development of trained technicians is a vital need in India today," he said.

As a member of the Board of Governors of Lucknow Christian College, the only degree granting Methodist college in India, he wages a strong appeal for scholarships for young Indian nationals to get technical training in the U.S.

'Bored' Miller To Retire?

Disappointed Landy Planning Vacation

By BOB MYERS
FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—A native U.S. runner has set to break four minutes in the mile but to Australia's John Landy, mired doing this without breaking his own world record of 3:58 apparently is getting to be almost a bore.
So it appeared Sunday as Landy planned a 10-day vacation with a wealthy uncle, George Landy, in Miami Beach, Fla. after turning in a 3:51 race here Saturday night.
Minutes after the run, the 26-year-old Landy was muttering that this was his last mile race that he will point for the 1:30 mile.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star

Don Pierce, University of Kansas publicist and a track authority deluxe, offers a solution to the difficulties of the Amateur Athletic Association has gotten itself into and the mess it has created.

But regardless of the merit in The Whale's proposal, it is doubtful the AAU stand much of the idea. The AAU stand undoubtedly would be Don't kill the goose that lays the golden egg.

Pierce suggests that the National Collegiate Athletic Association take over the functions of the AAU by expanding its operations into the post graduate field.

"The basic machinery is there for such a move," Pierce told Bill Mayer recently. "The NCAA already is well-organized. It could add to its staff. It's certainly not as simple as that and would entail a lot of work, but it could be done and would encompass all amateur athletics under one roof."

"I've talked to quite a few persons and a good many of them favor something like this," he says. "The organization would be quite a task, but I think we have a really workable outfit since it was completed, and one that could do much for athletics."

Since the nation's colleges are the major spawning grounds for track stars, it might be possible for the NCAA to operate in the post-grad field.

At least Pierce's idea rates some serious consideration.

Snider's Homers Blast Giants

Newcombe Gets 5th Win As Bums Sweep Series

BROOKLYN (AP)—Duke Snider clouted a pair of home runs, one of them with the bases full, to account for five of Brooklyn's runs as the Dodgers swept the three-game series against the New York Giants with a 6-4 victory Sunday.

Don Newcombe started for Brooklyn and was credited with his fifth success against a single loss but for the seventh straight time he failed to go the route against the Giants.

Newcombe was breezing along with a 6-0 lead in the seventh when Hank Thompson opened with a single and Darv Spencer was hit with a pitch. Don Mueller, who already had smacked a pair of singles, doubled scoring Thompson and Spencer. This marked the first Giant runs since Friday night, Carl Erskine held them hitless and scoreless on Saturday.

It was Mueller who had ended the Giants' hit famine with a single after two out in the second. Until then New York had gone 11 consecutive innings without a hit. Rookie first baseman Bill White followed Mueller's seventh-inning two-bagger with his second homer of the season that finished Newcombe but relief ace Clem Labine took over and retired the last nine Gants in order.

The Braves got 13 hits off Jonny Klippstein and Hershel Freeman.

The Braves thrice together two runs in the third three more in the sixth and a final tally in the ninth in the second game.

Cron went the distance holding the Redlegs to seven hits one in every inning except the fifth and ninth.

Reliever Susce Sparkles As Bosox Trip Nats, 5-3

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Susce held Washington to one hit in four innings in a relief role Sunday and emerged with his first victory of the season as Boston defeated the Senators 5-3. It was Boston's first win in six road games. Jackie Jensen and Jim Piersall clouted home runs for the Red Sox.

The Senators grabbed a 3-1 lead against Frank Sullivan. Ed Yost's double and Pete Runnels' single gave Washington a run in the first inning but Jensen tied the score in the second with a home run.

Washington moved in front in the third on singles by Yost, Runnels and Roy Sievers and took a two-run advantage in the fourth when Lou Berberet socked his first major league homer with none aboard.

Boston knotted the score in the

Bob Lau's 71 Low In City

Bob Lau of Lincoln Country Club set the pace for Capital City golfers over the week end with a one-under-par 71.

Lau's score was low for the four Lincoln courses. High winds Sunday kept scores high.

Some top individual performances—including a near ace—were reported for the week.

AT LINCOLN COUNTRY CLUB—Chick White came within an inch of scoring a hole in one on No. 14

... Al Glantz started a round with a par, eagle and birdie on the first three holes. Other eagles were by Jerry Bush (No. 13), Jean Hyland (No. 3) and Lyle Holland (No. 18).

Paul Hyland and Harry Megginis shared sweepstakes honors with 73s. The low net foursome event went to Ted Sick, Dick Spangler, Erv Rucklos and Don Pegler Sr. with a combined 286.

Lau's pace-setting 71 was followed by Jerry Hunt's 73 and 75 by Ted Sick and Steve Flansburg.

The Lincoln Country Club will hold a golf breakfast next Sunday.

AT HILL CREST COUNTRY CLUB—Low scores reported were 76s by Gene Chadwell and White

Reed. Sweepstakes honors went to many—Bill Jennings and Joe Dworak tied in the Saturday sweepstakes with 70s, while George Farley, Howard A. Lincoln, Wally Knievel and Dr. F. A. Pearson tied for third with 71s.

The Sunday event went to John Reinhardt, who had a 72; Waldo Winter and Percy Mays deadlocked for second and third with 73s.

AT PARK VALLEY—Gary Wuster and Bob Fletcher were low with 36s. Other low scores were 38 by Alan Peterson and 39s by Bob Sherman and Jerry Carey.

AT PIONEERS—Erv Peterson set a hot pace for some 350 weekend golfers with his second 73 of the young season. His record included an eagle on No. 15.

Chuck Jensen, ex-NU golfer, reported a 74. Other low scores were a 75 by Phil White and a 76 by Joe Gifford Sr.

Denver Gets Richardson

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees Sunday night sent reserve infielder Bobby Richardson to Denver of the American Assn., to bring their squad within two of the 25-player limit.

Willie Mays began the 1956 season as the eighth ranked home run hitter in the history of the New York Giants with 116, five less than Hank Thompson.

Ex-Yankee Wight Beats New York To Gain Split

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Wight, veteran southpaw once owned by New York, defeated his former Yankee teammates 5-1 Sunday as the Baltimore Orioles rebounded from an 11-2 defeat to gain a split in their doubleheader.

A crowd of 21,935 watched Wight not only hand out the American League leaders with seven hits but saw him drive in the first Baltimore run with a single then ignite a four-run outburst in the eighth with another single that put the game beyond reach.

The split enabled the Yankees to retain their first-place lead of one game over the Cleveland Indians but it boosted Baltimore into fifth place, four percentage points over Washington.

Tom Sturdivant, making his first start for the Yankees, pitched a creditable game until the eighth. The young right-hander had given

Tribe Streak Gave Top Jockey Start

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three-run homers by Al Rosen and Rocky Colavito powered the Cleveland Indians to a 9-4 victory over the Kansas City Athletics in the nightcap Sunday after the A's had broken a four-game tribe winning string in copping the opener 5-2.

The Athletics' Hector Lopez also pitched a three-run homer in the second game, driving a Herb Score pitch over the left-center field fence in the seventh after singles by Joe DeMaestri and Rance Pless.

Score yielded six hits in evening his season record at 3-3.

YORK — One of the country's top jockeys, David Erb, got his start astride ponies in the feed lot at the York farm home of his grandfather, H. Q. Erb.

David, the "eye" for Needles in the Kentucky Derby, the Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah, and the Gulfstream Florida Derby at Miami, started in the game at the age 15.

Without knowledge of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Erb, he slipped away and signed as a jockey at Lincoln. His first race was at the Nebraska State Fair track.

His first major track event was at Hot Springs, Ark. He then went to St. Louis, back to Omaha and finally to the big stakes in 1940 in Seattle, Wash., where he picked up $10,000.

The 33-year-old jockey has been astride the best of them. In 1953 he brought Swaps across the finish line in a record-smashing race at Hollywood Park, to set the world's mark of 1:40.25 for a mile and one-sixteenth. This win gave Erb a big piece of owner Rex Elmsworth's jackpot, approximately $7,000.

Erb, atop Needles, will be a jockey to watch May 19 when he takes Needles into the Preakness at Pimlico. Needles will find Derby rivals in the Preakness field, according to present plans. From Maryland, Needles and his rider will go to New York to run in the Belmont Stakes in June.

White Sox, Shaky Pierce Jar Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—Southpaw Billy Pierce pitched himself in and out of trouble all afternoon, but scored 10 hits for his fourth victory of the season as the Chicago White Sox battered the Detroit Tigers 8-1 at Briggs Stadium Sunday.

The victory gave the White Sox a sweep of the three-game series, and their 14 hits off four Detroit pitchers gave them 43 base hits in the three contests.

The 29-year-old Pierce had runners on base in all but two innings, but was gritty in the clutch. He faltered in the sixth, permitting three straight singles by Bill Tuttle, Ray Boone and Charley Maxwell for Detroit's only run.

New Member Is Welcomed Into SW Loop

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Southwest Conference welcomed its first new member in 33 years Sunday and started immediately to integrate the newcomer—bustling, ambitious Texas Tech—into its affairs.

Int'w days of long conferences, countless rumors and tension, the conference faculty committee emerged with a statement that by unanimous vote, Texas Tech, had been "invited to appoint a committee to work with a committee of the Southwest Athletic Conference for the express purpose of working out details under which Texas Tech may become a member of the Southwest Conference."

The committees will hold their first meeting in Dallas next Sunday. Dr. E. D. Mouzon, of Southern Methodist University, president of the conference, heads the Southwest Conference group. Tech will announce its committee shortly.

Ex-Yankee Wight Beats New York To Gain Split

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Wight, veteran southpaw once owned by New York, defeated his former Yankee teammates 5-1 Sunday as the Baltimore Orioles rebounded from an 11-2 defeat to gain a split in their doubleheader.

A crowd of 21,935 watched Wight not only handcuff the American League leaders with seven hits but saw him drive in the first Baltimore run with a single, then ignite a four-run outburst in the eighth with another single that put the game beyond reach.

The split enabled the Yankees to retain their first-place lead of one game over the Cleveland Indians but it boosted Baltimore into fifth place, four percentage points over Washington.

Tom Sturdivant, making his first start for the Yankees, pitched a creditable game until the eighth. The young right-hander had given

K-City Halts Tribe Streak But Lose 2nd

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three-run homers by Al Rosen and Rocky Colavito powered the Cleveland Indians to a 9-4 victory over the Kansas City Athletics in the nightcap Sunday after the A's had broken a four-game Tribe winning string in copping the opener 5-2.

The Athletics' Hector Lopez also pitched a three-run homer in the second game, driving a Herb Score pitch over the left-center field fence in the seventh after singles by Joe DeMaestri and Rance Pless.

Score yielded six hits in evening his season record at 3-3.

Grandfather's Feed Lot Gave Top Jockey Start

YORK — One of the country's top jockeys, David Erb, got his start astride ponies in the feed lot at the York farm home of his grandfather, H. Q. Erb.

David, the "eye" for Needles in the Kentucky Derby, the Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah, and the Gulfstream Florida Derby at Miami, started in the game at the age 15.

Without knowledge of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Erb, he slipped away and signed as a jockey at Lincoln. His first race was at the Nebraska State Fair track.

His first major track event was at Hot Springs, Ark. He then went to St. Louis, back to Omaha and finally to the big stakes in 1940 in Seattle, Wash., where he picked up $10,000.

The 33-year-old jockey has been astride the best of them. In 1955 he brought Swaps across the finish line in a record-smashing race at Hollywood Park, to set the world's mark of 1:40.2-5 for a mile and one-sixteenth. This win gave Erb a big piece of owner Rex Edsworth's jackpot, approximately $7,000.

Erb, atop Needles, will be a jockey to watch May 19 when he takes Needles into the Preakness at Pimlico. Needles will find Derby rivals in the Preakness field, according to present plans. From Maryland, Needles and his rider will go to New York to run in the Belmont Stakes in June.

White Sox, Shaky Pierce Jar Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—Southpaw Billy Pierce pitched himself in and out of trouble all afternoon, but scattered 10 hits for his fourth victory of the season as the Chicago White Sox battered the Detroit Tigers 8-1 at Briggs Stadium Sunday.

The victory gave the White Sox a sweep of the three-game series, and their 14 hits off four Detroit pitchers gave them 43 base hits in the three contests.

The 29-year-old Pierce had runners on base in all but two innings, but was gritty in the clutch. He faltered in the sixth, permitting three straight singles by Bill Tuttle, Ray Boone and Charley Maxwell for Detroit's only run.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Boer

What kind of a day was yesterday in politics? Just like tomorrow except it's today.

You don't have to get both shells with an oyster to enjoy it. Anybody who can locate a dent in a Texas hat knows the campaign opened when Nixon offered his body to science and referendum.

Bugs Boer

Ike's carillon of deep-toned nods from the executive bell-tower rang all the changes in the con-

If you have to telegraph your punches, telegraph 'em collect.

Now it's the Democrats who have to observe the law of the pack. Always cut 'em twice when playing with strangers.

It could be either Harriman, Stevenson or Kefauver for the Democrats. Depending on who you asked first.

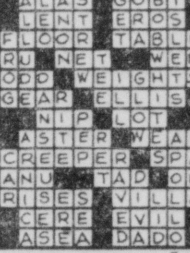

Lost Scouts Happy

SHERIDAN, Wyo. (AP) — Each year, a group of Explorer Boy Scouts gets lost in the Big Horn Mountains. They do it intentionally. Escorted by skilled supervisors, the Scouts take only the basic needs for survival, and leave prepared foods behind. They forage for food, build rabbit snares and peel bark which they boil into soup. After two or three days of survival training, the Scouts are led to safety by their supervisors. The idea is to stimulate emergencies common to this rugged area.
